TILLMAN SAYS HIS DESK WAS LOOTED

Documents Important to His Defense Have Been Taken Away.

SEARCH FAILS TO REVEAL PAPERS

Pitchfork Senator Confident He Will Fully Clear Himself.

Washington, Jan. 9.—In the preparation of his speech in reply to the president's charges Senator Tillman has failed to find a number of papers bearing upon the Oregon land case in connection with which the present controversy arose. These papers were, he says, enclosed in a large envelope and left in his private desk in his committee room at the capitol when he left Washington last March on account of his illness, but they cannot now be found. The senator does not charge that the papers have been abstracted by a government detective who may have been shadowing him, but does say that it would have been possible for any such official to gain access to his room and to his desk, both of which were fastened with only ordinary locks. The papers, he says, are very important in the preparation of his case and would go far to substantiate his defense. He says that not only his desk, but that every nook and cranny of his office have been searched for the documents, but without avail. Notwithstanding the loss of these data, Mr. Tillman expresses confidence in his ability to make satisfactory reply to the president.

"He will be hoist by his own petard," declared Mr. Tillman, sententiously.

UNMOVED BY PRESIDENT.

Washington, Jan. 9.—President Roosevelt last night made public the details of an investigation by postoffice inspectors and secret service agents of Senator Tillman's connection with an alleged "land grab" in Oregon. As he presents the evidence to Senator Hale in response to the latter's request to the heads of the various executive departments for a statement of the operations of the secret service, the president undertakes to show—

That Mr. Tillman used his influence as a senator in an effort to force the government to compel a

WILL PUSH RIVERS AND HARBORS MEASURE

Advocates of the Bill Are Making Every Effort to Get It Passed.

Washington, Jan. 9.—The advocates of a general rivers and harbors' appropriation bill are making every effort to have such a measure passed at the present session of congress. While the general schemes for the "Atlantic deeper waterways" project and the "lakes-to-the-gulf deeper waterways" project are not ready for consideration by congress, the Ohio river project is in such shape as to require only the moneys necessary for commencing the work.

This project, which is to make an "all year nine-foot waterway" from Pittsburg to Cairo along the Ohio river, probably will be the first large new inland project which will be presented to congress and the members of the house committee on rivers and harbors are deliberating as to whether a bill appropriating the money for this work should be reported at the present session. It is very likely that an emergency measure will be reported by this committee if it should decide not to report a general appropriation bill. this measure to provide funds for urgent projects in course of completion.

The committee will meet again on Monday to decide, if possible, what course it will pursue with reference to rivers and harbors improvements.

Representative Ransdell, of Louisiana, president of the rivers and harbors congress, and a member of the house committee on rivers and harbors, will introduce a resolution within a few days which will provide for joint commission similar in purpose the present monetary commission. which would be empowered to employ experts and visit the countries of Europe in order to give congress complete information with regard to the policies of other nations in improving waterways.

HOUSE WILL SINK ITS PROBE DEEP

Will Not Stop With Resolution Rebuking President Roosevelt.

INQUIRY WILL BE MADE THOROUGH

Determined to Investigate Use of Money for the Secret Service.

Washington, Jan. 9.—That the house of representatives does not intend to stop with its action of yesterday in rebuking the president in connection with his strictures regarding the secret service, was evidenced today, when at the instance of Mr. Tawney, of Minnesota, and without a dissenting vote, it adopted a sweeping resolution of inquiry into the amount of moneys appropriated for the present fiscal year for detecting frauds and the efforts made to bring to trial offenders against the law.

The resolution called for the appointment of a committee of five members to conduct the investigation and it authorized to employ stenographers and clerks, to send for persons and papers and to administer oaths.

The sum of $5,000 was appropriated to cover the expenses involved.

It is understood that there will be nothing further from the president on the matter of the secret service resolution adopted by the house yesterday. The list of Saturday callers from congress, usually, is large, but today there were only four representatives to see the president, two of these to introduce friends. They were Representative Burton, of Delaware; Edwards, of Kentucky; Parsons, of New York, and Cooper, of Wisconsin. The callers from the senate also were small in number, including Senator Overman, who introduced a delegation of North Carolinians. desirous of being heard on a judgeship; Senator Warren, who presented friends; Senator Depew and Senator Burkett.

ADOPTED THE RESOLUTION.

Washington, Jan. 9.—After having made him the target all day for criticism, with here and there words of commendation, the house of representatives last night, by a vote of 212 to 35, rebuked the president by tabling so much of his message as reflected on members of congress in connection with his recommendations regarding the secret service detectives and also declaring to be the sense of the house

GOETHALS DEFENDS SITE CHOSEN FOR BIG DAM

Says Gatun Dam is Proved to be Better Than Bohio Would Have Been.

Washington, Dec. 9.—Reasons showing the wisdom of having chosen the site at Gatun rather than that at Bohio for the big dam in the Panama canal are given in a letter from Geo. W. Goethals, chairman of the isthmian canal commission to Secretary of War Wright.

It is a reply to a recent published article in which Mr. Bunau Varilla, representative of France in the negotiations for the purchase of the canal company's rights, is alleged to have predicted that the plan adopted by congress for the canal would be a failure because of the selection of Gatun as the site for the main dam. He is quoted as saying that the remedy is to place the dam further up the Chargres valley at Bohio.

Colonel Goethals says that the idea of having the dam at Bohio is not a new one; that it was proposed by the canal commission in 1988 and 1901 and that the minority o' this board eliminated the dam at Bohio and this plan was adopted.

"Since that time," says Colonel Goethals, "the site at Gatun has been continually under investigation and observation, and nothing has been noted which indicates any reason for departing from the opinions expressed by the minority of the consulting board."

He reports that at Bohio th. gorge in its lower strata is filled with water bearing gravel, not found at Gatun, and points out that in order to make the dam safe at this point it probably would be necessary to construct at great expense a curtain wall extending to the rock, 165 feet below the surface at its deepest point, to cut off the underflow of water.

In regard to "slips" of earth in the toes of the dam, he says that the "same kind of 'slips' would have to be looked for at Bohio as at Gatun, if an earth dam should be attempted at the former site."

DOUBLES ITS CAPITAL.

Samuel M. Foster Company Increases Stock to $100,000.

The Samuel M. Foster company, of this city, has just filed with the secretary of state a notice of increase in its capital stock. The old total of $50,000 has been doubled. The company manufactures shirt waists and wash dresses. Samuel M. Foster is president and Frank L. Taft is secretary.

SIX NIGHT RIDERS CONDEMNED TO DIE

Judge Jones Imposes Death Penalty on Men Found Guilty of Murder.

LIFE PENALTY IS IMPOSED ON TWO

Appeal Taken to Supreme Court—Day for Hanging ing February 19.

Union City, Tenn., Jan. 9.—Judge Jones today imposed the death penalty on Garrett Johnson, Tid Burton, Boy Ransom, Fred Pinion, Arthur Cloar and Samuel Applewhite, the night riders who were found guilty of the murder of Captain Quentin Rankin, and sentenced Bud Morris and Bob Huffman, the two other defendants to twenty years imprisonment. The attorneys for the defense immediately gave notice of an appeal to the state supreme court. If this tribunal does not interfere, the first named six men will be hanged on February 19.

In applying to Judge Jones today for a new trial, the defense attacked the competency of Jurors McKinney and Dahnke, asserting that they had expressed opinions as to the guilt of the parties on trial and that Dahnke was a resident of the state of Kentucky.

Witnesses will be introduced to prove the facts. It was also claimed that Juror Rosson, who was ill, was thus incompetent to pass on the guilt or innocence of the accused.

The motion for a new trial was quickly overruled.

FLEMING ISSUES WARNING.

Deputy Game Warden Says Sunday Hunting Must Stop.

"I wish The Sentinel would again call attention to the fact that hunting on Sunday is a violation of the law and that it must stop," said Deputy Game Warden R. D. Fleming today. "Complaints are coming in from every direction that the law is being violated, and we are compelled to put forth every effort to see that the cause for complaint is removed."

BURIAL AT LINDENWOOD.

Remains of Dr. Marion F. Williamson Interred Here.

The remains of Dr. Marion F. Williamson, whose death occurred a few days ago at Joliet, Ill., arrived in the city at noon today over the Pennsylvania lines. The funeral party proceeded directly to Lindenwood cemetery, where after brief funeral services conducted by Rev. Dr. D. W. Moffat, the interment occurred. Dr. Williamson was 76 years of age and his death was due to pneumonia.

CLOSING TESTIMONY IN THE TRIAL OF HAINS

Through One Witness in Rebuttal the State Makes a Hard Hit.

Flushing, N. Y., Jan. 9.—Several members of the Bayside Yacht club, where William E. Annis was shot and killed by Captain Peter C. Hains, Jr., were called in rebuttal at the trial of Thornton J. Hains today and declared with positiveness that James Tierney, the defense's eye witness of the tragedy, was not on the float and had not been at the club house on August 15.

All the club members declared that Captain Hains appeared rational and showed no evidence of insanity.

The state scored heavily in the testimony of Charles Roberts, a Bayside club member. The defendant swore on the stand that as soon as his brother fired the last shot the revolver was knocked from his hand by John Tonning and that the witness, Roberts, picked it up.

Roberts testified today that he pulled Annis from the water, talked with him, secured a sail cloth and put it under his head, and not until then did he go and pick up the Captain's weapon.

A message was sent to General Hains by Captain Hains stating that he "Had shot Annis" and to come at once, was brought out by Policeman Fallon, who identified the message that he said the Captain wrote. This was developed by the prosecution as having a bearing on the Captain's sanity.

Justice Crane told counsel that he wanted to conclude with the taking of evidence tonight and indicated that he would not permit any "fishing excursions."

Hains Much Depressed.

Thornton Hains has been visibly depressed since he left the witness stand Thursday.

"It is only natural that I should feel the strain of the trial," said Hains, "when so much depends upon the outcome. No man knows what twelve men may do, but as I have read the faces of the men who will judge the facts I have no fears of a conviction. My only fear, however, is a possibility of disagreement, which means another long stay in jail, perhaps, before I can get a new trial. On the evidence I should be acquitted, and my best belief is that I will be found not guilty."

It was stated in court today that John Tierney, the ash collector, is ill with pneumonia at his home.

HANLY WINDS UP ODDS AND ENDS

Executive Chamber Busiest Place About Indiana State House.

MAKES SEVERAL APPOINTMENTS

Nothing New Has Developed in Democratic Fight for the Toga.

Indianapolis, Jan. 9.—Most of the Indiana law-makers who elected to remain in Indianapolis until the legislature opened Monday morning, could be found about the state house today. A few members went to the capitol. Some were writing leters and others talking politics.

The busiest place in the state house was the governor's office, where Governor Hanly was hard at work closing up the work of his office before the inauguration of Governor-elect Marshall Monday. The sound of the hammer punctuated the silence as workmen erected the platform for the inauguration ceremonies in the south corridor. This work was started today.

From the governor's office it was announced that the following appointments had been made:

Adam Heimberger, New Albany, member board of trustees, Central Hospital for the Insane.

W. A. Ketcham, Indianapolis, member board of control, Soldiers' and Sailors' monument.

Thomas A. Daily, Indianapolis, member board of pardons.

Clyde E. Titus, Indianapolis, member board of embalmers.

A battle flag commission authorized at the recent special session was amended by Governor Hanly today, as follows:

Henry M. Caylor, Noblesville, civil war flags; David J. McCormick, Indianapolis; Spanish-American war flags, and Jeremiah Hendren, Greenfield, Mexican war banners.

Pending legislation received attention from the members about the house and senate chambers today.

NOTHING NEW IN TOGA FIGHT.

Indianapolis, Jan. 9.—Today brought no new moves in the senatorial game which is being played at the Denison hotel. All the candidates are staying close to their headquarters as there are few of the legislators who have not gone to their homes to spend Sunday. The hotel lobby is practically deserted.

Frequent conferences were held today by candidates and their lieutenants. Plans are being made for the battle which will begin in earnest Monday after the inauguration of Governor-elect Marshall and Lieutenant Governor-eelect Hall is out of the way.

From then until the time of the joint caucus Wednesday night the lines will be tightened.

The best of feeling prevails among the rivals and there has been a notable absence of bitterness in the various followings.

Indications are that all the candidates will go before the caucus and that the break will come after the first few ballots.

CITIES AND TOWNS BILL.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 9.—Senator Stozenburg, of New Albany, will introduce a bill to amend the cities and towns law so that in cities of third and fourth classes the council shall decide whether of not there shall be a board of public works and a city controller. It will provide also that in cities of this class the mayor shall act as the police judge. In cities of this class that are county seats, the county treasurers shall also perform the duties of city treasurers. This bill will be championed also by Senator Parks, of Jeffersonville.

It is pointed out that it will greatly reduce the expenses of the cities of the classes named.

Mrs. Jay Moderwell, one of the instructors in the Bloomingdale school, temporarily at work at the old high school building, was painfully injured Wednesday when a heavy map which fell from the wall struck her upon the nose and an arm. Mrs. Moderwell's nose was severely cut and bruised and her injuries will confine her to her home for some days.

Barrett, junior vice commander; Jacob Hetrick, surgeon; John Kress, chaplain; Jasper Edsall, quartermaster; Isaac d'Isay, adjutant; John Hess, officer of the day; J. D. King, officer of the guard.

Senator W. F. Ranke came home from Indianapolis last night to spend Sunday.

JUDGE CHAPIN IS INJURED BY CAR

Venerable Jurist Run Down at Broadway and Wayne Street.

FAILED TO HEAR THE MOVING CAR

Head and Hand Severely Gashed and Concussion Follows.

Judge A. A. Chapin was run down by a street car at the intersection of Broadway and Wayne streets about 1 o'clock this afternoon and sustained serious injuries, the full extent of which the physicians will be unable to tell until his condition will permit of a thorough examination.

JUDGE A. A. CHAPIN,

Eminent Fort Wayne Lawyer Who Was Badly Injured in Street Car Accident.

News from his home is to the effect that he is resting quietly and there is no reason to anticipate that he has sustained anything more serious than a marked concussion coupled with wounds on the left temple and left hand.

The venerable jurist had just left his home on Wayne street, immediately west of Broadway and was walking diagonally across from the northwest to the southeast corner as the car approached from the north. He is extremely hard of hearing and did not hear the ringing of the gong or the noise of the car.

Judge O. N. Heaton, of the superior court, with Mrs. Heaton and her mother, were standing at the northwest corner and saw the accident. Judge Chapin was taken into his home and Drs. H. V. and Garrett Van Sweringen were called. He had been

KELL AGAIN CHOSEN BY INSURANCE UNION

Fort Wayne Man Re-Elected President.—Change in Laws Wanted.

Hon. George V. Kell, of Allen county, has again been elected president of the Mutual Insurance Companies' Union of Indiana, the honor coming to him by unanimous vote at the convention just held at Indianapolis. Emmett Moore, of Hagerstown, was chosen vice president, and H. L. Nowlin, of Moores Hill, was made secretary and treasurer.

Mr. Kell and Capt. W. A. Kelsey were at Indianapolis as the representatives of the Allen County Farmers' Mutual Insurance association at the convention, and fifty companies were represented at the meeting. An effort is being put forth to secure a change in the state laws whereby a mutual fire insurance company may be organized in Indiana with the right to a state-wide business. The bill amends the present Indiana statute by providing that any mutual insurance company may operate anywhere in the state, instead of its operations being restricted to three counties.

An effort will be made to have the proposed measure placed before both houses of the legislature within a few days. Several of the legislators are said to have pledged their support to it. Opposition on the part of the old-line insurance lobby is expected.

PRICKED HUBBY AND WOULD NOT LET HIM REST

John Engle Tells a Tale of Woe in Suit—News of Courts.

When John Engle, employed as a railroad brakeman, returned home tired, cold and hungry after hard trips on the road and sought his downey couch, his wife would not allow him to sleep and to prevent it she pricked him with a pin to break his rest. This is one of the charges made in a divorce complaint filed in the superior court today against the wife aforesaid, whose first name is Lulu.

They were married on October 13, 1903, which may have given him a bad start on account of the unlucky day, and lived together until Sept. 7, 1905. His charges against Lulu are that she came home frequently at 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning in a cab and met his mild expostulations with volleys of profanity that were so bad he could not put them in his complaint. He says also that she struck him and that she associated with men of bad repute for chastity and with them visited wine rooms, where she remained late at night.

He also stats that one time when he was out on a run he received a message that she was dying and came home to find her howling drunk and to get a good "cussing." They have no children.

Forfeited His Bond.

In the circuit court today Deputy Prosecutor Harry Hilgemann had the bond of Harry Cornstein forfeited and $100 was turned over to the school Cornstein came here last fall to conduct a show at the Hatch carnival and brought along a lad who posed as a lady snake charmer. He got the boy to write his name on a card and then wrote a receipt for his wages above it and wouldn't pay the boy. He was released some time ago and did not return for trial.

Application Is Refused.

In the commissioners' court today the application for the reinstatement of the liquor application of Space Pietro was refused after an argument by Attorney Phil B. Colerick and an appeal was taken to the circuit court. Pietro had in an application and withdrew it when he found it covered the same building for which Zach Holsen sought a license. Then Holson, it was discovered, had failed to advertise for the specified period and he was turned down. Pietro came back then and asked for reinstatement.

New Term Opens Monday.

The new term of the superior court will be opened Monday after a week in which Judge Heaton has devoted his time to a number of cases taken under advisement during the last term. The court will open with a big docket and the session promises to be a busy one.

Court Notes.

Application was made in the superior court today for a change of venue in the suit of Nelson Hoffer against Edward White.

Robinson and Luecke made application to Judge Heaton for a new hearing in the Baslada ditch case.

EXPERT IN A TALK TO GROWERS OF HAY

Mr. McClure Says Indiana Farmer Can Improve Conditions.

That much of the Indiana hay crop is produced at an actual loss, and that growers can vastly improve conditions by intelligent consideration of the situation, was the general tenor of an address delivered this afternoon at the assembly room of the court house by Harry B. McClure, of Washington, scientific assistant in the office of farm management of the United States department of agriculture.

The meeting was held under the auspices of the Hay Dealers' association, and C. S. Bash presided. The invitation had been extended generally to farmers and a good-sized audience was present to hear the expert, whose work is at government expense. Mr. McClure has just completed a tour of western hay-growing states in order to study conditions.

Indiana in Center.

"Indiana is situated in the center of the great timothy hay section of our country," said Mr. McClure. "It grows 5 per cent of the total timothy crop of the United States and more clover than any other state in the union—20 per cent of the entire crop of the country. And although growing hay for market is a main source of income in this section, it is safe to say that over half the timothy hay is produced at a loss under average conditions. As a ton of hay will contain about $6 worth of fertilizer, one can readily see that there is no profit in growing anything but first-class hay.

"Indiana hay-growers have a great problem to solve. In the last five years hay and grain land in Indiana has increased 30 per cent in value, so that as the land increases in value the farmer must increase its yield per acre in like proportion if the same profit is to be realized from the investment. The first problem is to grow a larger yield per acre. Little progress has been made in this direction in the past forty years.

"If hay is fed upon the farm, the farmer's idea about curing can be carried out, but if the hay is for market, the conditions must be sometimes entirely different. Selling hay and grain from the farm does not represent the highest type of farming, and is only profitable when done right. One thing the hay-growers should know is that it is the city horse-feeder who makes the price of hay, and that whenever there is a difference of opinion as to what constitutes choice hay, it is always the farmer who suffers.

One Great Problem.

"One of the great problems for the Indiana hay-grower is to educate the feeder to the value of legume hay—such as clover and timothy. There is a saving of $3 a ton or more when clover is grown instead of timothy, for clover is more nutricious and gives better satisfaction if properly cured.

"Another important thing in curing is that no general rule for curing can be laid down; each grower must study his own conditions, the value of the land, value of cured hay, cost of labor, nearness of market and decide which is best under the circumstances.

"The chief trouble in the hay business is low-grade hay. The first step in putting the selling end of the business on a firm basis is for the farmer to learn the grades of hay and sell strictly according to grade. At present the man who has choice hay may not get what it is worth, while the man with low-grade hay is probably geting more than it is worth.

Cause for Low-Grade Hay.

The chief cause for so much low-grade hay is because meadows are kept down too long for hay. It is cut year after year, the yield decreasing steadily year by year because weeds and fine grasses are permited to enter and lower the quality. It seldom pays to keep a meadow in timothy longer than three years. The general idea that rain causes low-grade hay is erroneous. Sixty per cent of the hay remains in the swath from twenty-four to thirty hours, while the best haygrowers cut and either have it in cock or in barn the same day. The department of agriculture has made a special study of cropping conditions, and is willing to aid the farmer in planning a cropping system that will give him larger yields and at the same time maintain and build up the fertility of the soil."

TILLMAN SAYS HIS DESK WAS LOOTED

railroad corporation to relinquish its control of land grants from the United States in order that he and his family and his secretary, J. P. Knight, might profit through the purchase of some of the land;

That the senator used his government franking privilege in numerous instances for the conduct of private business.

Comparatively few senators were favored with the opportunity of reading the president's report to Senator Hale, but those who did read it took a serious view of it, although most of the senators refused to believe that Mr. Tillman had ever done anything in violation of his oath as a senator.

Small Affair, Says Tillman.

Senator Tillman did not permit the fact that the president was giving out the charges against him to alter his determination to make no statement until Monday. He said that he could not make his reply so complete as he would desire for tomorrow's papers, and that he would therefore withhold whatever remarks he might have to make until Monday, when he would make a statement to the senate. No effort was made by him to conceal the fact that when he had learned the facts concerning the railroad grant he had made an effort to obtain portions of the land in the names of himself and members of his family, but declared that, as at most, he could have got possession of only a few hundred acres, his efforts were, after all, in behalf of the public and not especially in his own interest.

Immediately after the conclusion of the chaplain's prayer Monday Mr. Tillman will ask the recognition of the chair on a question of personal privilege. Departing from his custom of extemporaneous speaking, he will read his statement, thus insuring more careful adherence to what he desires to say than he would be able to give in off-hand speech.

The communication to Senator Hale is nearly 3,000 words long, and in addition there are appended numerous exhibits, including copies of letters written by Senator Tillman and his agent, William E. Lee, showing that they did make an effort to secure several quarter sections of the Oregon land, and the reports of the postoffice inspectors who investigated the transactions of the land agents. It was through this investigation that the alleged interest of Senator Tillman was brought to light, and it appears that it was at the senator's own instigation the inquiry was begun.

away from home only a few minutes when the accident occurred.

Account of Eye Witness.

Judge Heaton stated that Judge Chapin was walking very slowly across the street looking down and that he evidently had not looked to see if a car was approaching. The fender struck his feet and it is possible, he said, that the body of the car struck his head.

The motorman was making a frantic effort to stop, but did not succeed, although he had slackened the speed of the car to such an extent that the aged man was struck with only enough violence to knock him down and off the rails.

A long gash was cut in the left temple and the left hand was severely lacerated, but the physicians were unable upon a cursory examination to find any fracture of the skull. Both eyes were badly blackened from the suffusion of blood and the impact stunned him.

He had not recovered sufficiently to give any account of the injury this afternoon, but no symptoms developed to indicate internal injuries. Judge Heaton and others attracted by the accident assisted in carrying him to his home. The car that caused the injury was No. 120, of the Broadway line, but the street car officials had not had an opportunity to obtain the names of the motorman and conductor. The gravity of the injuries is materially increased by the advanced age of Judge Chapin.

that they shall decline to consider any communications from any source which is not in its own judgment respectful.

With feelings of outraged dignity and pride on the part of many of its members, the house yesterday gave itself up entirely to a discussion of one of the most momentous questions that ever came before it—its functions as a legislative body, in contradistinction to those of the executive branch of the government.

As had been forecasted, the report of the special committee appointed to deal with the language in the president's annual message and in his special message of last Monday bearing on the secret service affecting members of congress was submitted and it was used as the basis for some of the most earnest and vigorous speeches ever heard in the historic chamber. The house was in no mood to treat the subject otherwise than seriously, although in the remarks which were made the references to the president almost invariably were couched in parliamentary language. Nor was the president without his supporters.

WHAT THE JOHN HANCOCK POLICYHOLDERS SAY

During the months of December and January, at which time our collections for the John Hancock Life are the largest, there is hardly a day but we hear from someone, (and especially from those who are carrying the most life insurance) the following declaration: "I wish every one of my Life Insurance policies were with you, for I like my John Hancock policy better than any other life policy that I carry, so if I ever purchase more Life Insurance I will buy of you in the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Boston, Mass."

Fallon was recalled and testified that he was in the Flushing station here when Captain Hains was brought in. The officer described the speech and manner of Captain Hains. This testimony was brought out to show that Captain Hains after the shooting was able to act and speak in a rational manner.

EARTHQUAKE IN MEXICO.

Mexico, Jan. 9.—The entire western coast of Mexico was shaken by an earthquake yesterday which was most severely felt at Acapulco, in the state of Guerrero and at Oaxaca in the state of the same name. The damage was trivial and no fatalities have been reported.

A mission study meeting of the C. W. B. M., of the West Creighton Avenue Church of Christ, was held on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. James Braden, 804 Cottage avenue.

GUEST FOUND DEAD IN HIS ROOM AT HOTEL

Sam Z. Williams, Traveling Salesman, Expires During Night.

Sam Z. Williams, a traveling salesman, apparently about 45 years of age, was found dead in his room at the Randall hotel this morning, and Coroner Kesler is inclined to the opinion that death was due to heart disease, possibly the result of rheumatism and over-indulgence in liquor. Williams registered from New York, but letters in his possession indicated that his home was at Coldwater, Mich. The remains were removed to the Wellman undertaking rooms to await further disposition.

Williams was a representative of the Gledhill Wall Paper company, New York, though he formerly made this territory for another eastern wall paper concern, and was known to wall paper dealers in Fort Wayne. He arrived at the Randall hotel Friday afternoon, and clerks say that his condition indicated that he had been drinking heavily. He stated that he was suffering from rheumatism and was en route to West Baden to take treatment for the malady. He sat for a time dozing in a chair in the hotel office, registered at 5 o'clock and early in the evening retired to his room—a double one which he shared with a guest who gave his name as Complained of Illness.

Within a short time Williams complained of illness and asked for a physician. Dr. Blosser was summoned and later Dr. McOscar was called to attend him. About 10 o'clock Williams rang for a bellboy to take his money to the office for deposit in the safe, and Clerk Pauley took personal charge of Williams' cash—about $60. Later the guest quieted down and apparently slept soundly during the night. At 8 o'clock this morning his room-mate, Geach, awakened and walked over to Williams' bed to call him. Then it was found that death had intervened. Telegrams were sent in an effort to locate friends of the dead man.

Dr. McOscar, who was called to attend the man at 1 o'clock this morning, found him suffering from acute alcholism, extremely nervous and excited. He demanded drugs to induce sleep, declaring that he was a registered pharmacist, knew what he wanted and had been in the habit of using the drug in the quantity demanded. The physician administered merely a safe dose of the sedative. Williams was up and about his room for some time after this had been done.

Due to Cerebral Congestion.

The physician believes that Williams' death was due to cerebral congestion from alcoholism, accompanied by an apoplectic condition. In the man's traveling bag were found several packages of migrain tablets, which he had evidently been in the habit of using to allay pain.

Later in the day communication was established with Williams' relatives at Coldwater, Mich., and it was announced that a brother would arrive in the city this evening to claim the remains. Identification was made complete by Harry P. Fletcher, Attorney Carl Yaple and others who knew the dead man. It is said that a brother and a sister survive. The man had been married, but was divorced.

Mrs. S. C. Anstett, of Wells street, and Mrs. L. M. Kelsey, of Lawton Place, have been in Toledo attending the funeral of a relative.

The regular meeting of the Relief Union will be held at 3 o'clock on Monday afternoon.

ANOTHER CHANCE FOR THAW.

Nyack, N. Y., Jan. 9.—Harry K. Thaw is entitled to a trial on the question of whether he has recovered his sanity, according to Justice Tompkins, who today had arguments on a writ of habeas corpus by Mrs. Mary C. Thaw, his mother.

In applying for the writ Mrs. Thaw declared that Harry K. Thaw was not a criminal, having been acquitted by a jury and that he is now sane and should not be kept in prison.

Jacob G. Pirson, of Cincinnati, has returned home after a visit in this city with Mr. and Mrs. William P. Kindt.

YOUNG GIRL FALLS VICTIM IN FEUD BATTLE

Kentucky Families Meet in Street and One Dies—Two Mortally Hurt.

Cincinnati, Jan. 9.—A Times-Star special from Williamstown, Ky., says: Miss Ethel Ranson, aged fifteen, was killed, and six other persons injured, two probably fatally, as a result of a feud fight on the streets of this place at an early hour today. There had been bitter feeling for a long time between the Lantern and Ranson families and it led to trouble when they met at a dance given last night at the home of Wes Barnes, two miles east of Williamstown.

The first outbreak was suppressed, but later the men met on the street and from words took to pistols and the throwing of boulders. Fortunately the streets were nearly deserted.

Miss Ransom was killed by a bullet, her brother Sidney was shot below the heart and above the eye, and his recovery is doubtful, as also is that of Charles Clark, who was shot through the lungs.

A DIVERTING VOLUME.

A most entertaining little volume from the pen of Florence Huntley has just come from the press under the title of "The Gay Gnani Gingalee; or Discords of Devolution." Mrs. Huntley will be distinctly remembered by persons who were familiar with the current humorous literature of more than a quarter of a century ago, when she collaborated with her husband, the late Stanley Huntley, in writing the famous "Spoopendike Papers," which made the Brooklyn Eagle famous. "The Gay Gnani" Mrs. Huntley dedicates "to those who are wise enough to be foolish—at intervals," and sets it forth as "a tragical entanglement of modern mysticism and modern science." The story is absorbing in interest and humorous to the last degree. It deals with three characters—two men and a woman—Bill Vanderhood, a very practical and breezy man of business; Alonzo Leffingwell, a student of esoteric philosophy and delver into the mysticism of theosophy, and Miss Imogene Silesia Sheets, a blonde typewriter young lady, a product of the "yards" region in Chicago and a high exemplar of its "I will" and "get there" propensities. The scene is Kankakee, Ill., chosen for obvious reasons. Kankakee has the biggest mad-house in the west. Bill wins Imogene. Alonzo goes to India and perfects himself in the use of strange powers. He comes back in his astral state and plays hob with Bill's domestic peace. Bill goes in strong for science and evolves means to destroy Alonzo's astral being. Alonzo is wiped out completely and tranquillity and happiness once more reigns in the Vanderhook home. The humor is delightful and the character of Bill is worked out with an art that ought to make George Ade jealous. Anyone seeking a story that is "all to the good" will get back his investment with usurious interest if he buys "The Gay Gnani."

GET A CLEW TO REV. CARMICHAEL OF RAILWAY

Preacher Who Figures in Michigan Mystery Got Ticket to Chicago.

Port Huron, Mich., Jan. 9.—It became known here today that Rev. John H. Carmichael, minister of the "Battle Run" Methodist church, in which Gideon Browning was butchered last Tuesday night, bought a ticket from Port Huron to Chicago the day after the murder and presumably left for that city. The first knowledge of this important clue came through the statements of the Chicago police that they had received word to this effect from officials here.

With the identity of the murdered person cleared up yesterday, every effort of the investigators today was toward discovering the whereabouts of the Rev. Carmichael. Little progress has been made thus far toward finding a motive. In fact the idea seems to be gathering weight among officers and detectives that if the missing minister is the perpetrator of the dreadful butchery in the little church, it must have been insanity which impelled him to do it.

Officers today have gone to the church to investigate the well in front of it. There are several feet of water in this well and it has been covered with ice since Tuesday night. A feeling has been developed that the well may contain some portions of Browning's body.

Because there were no evidences of leg or feet bones among the gruesome debris in the stove it is considered possible that the murderer may have found the cremation of the dismembered corpse such slow work that he otherwise disposed of the feet and lower legs.

SALLOW COMPLEXION

Changed to Ruddy Glow.

No one likes a sallow, muddy complexion. Many who are so afflicted od not realize that the daily consumption of coffee is likely the cause.

Coffee contains a drug—caffeine—which so irritates the nerves of the stomach that food is not properly digested and that causes bad blood.

It weakens, by its after effects, the heart and lungs so that the full amount of life-giving oxygen is not taken into the lungs and that is another cause of bad blood. It is often the cause of sallow complexion and nervousness also.

"During the past year," writes a Conn. lady, 'I found that I was gradually growing nervous through some unknown cause. I was peevish and restless, and my complexion had that sallow disagreeable color seen in debilitated people and nervous dyspeptics.

"During this time coffee was my chief beverage at every meal. Having been for many years a constant user of Grape-Nuts, I had read "The Road to Wellville," and becoming interested in Postum, I decided to try it in place of coffee.

"The result was gratifying and successful i nevery respect. It seemed that miracles were performed in that first week. My sallow complexion gradually giving way to a healthy, ruddy glow, and my nerves felt rested and at ease.

"In a short time my whole system felt rejuvenated and I was in fine spirits. It is needless to say that from that time to this Postum has always had its place on the pantry shelf along with the famous Grape-Nuts.

"Postum, when made according to directions on the pk., has a rich, tasty flavour and leaves an invigorating effect which is so different from the languid after feeling of the coffee drinker." "There's a Reason."

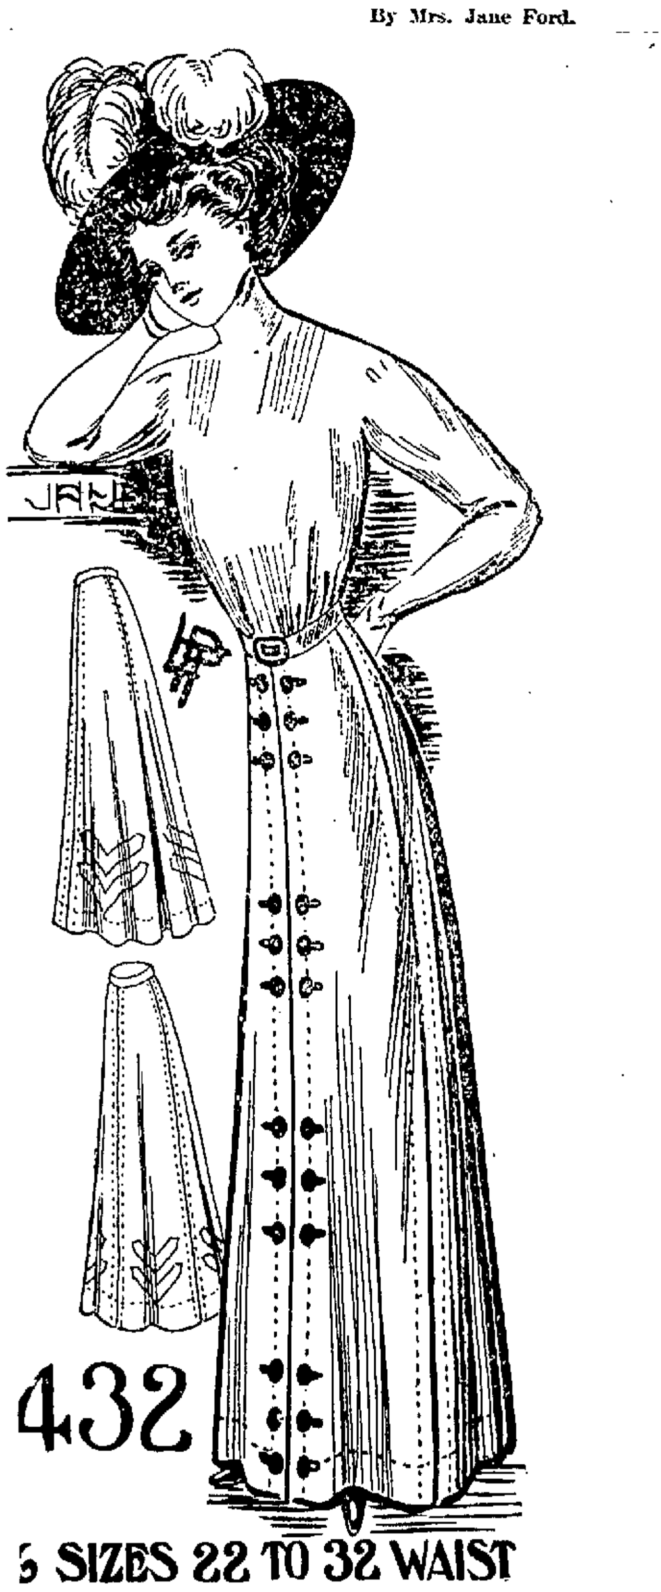
PLEATED DIRECTOIRE SKIRT

By Mrs. Jane Ford.



The development of the Directoire skirt is interesting. At first it appeared in the extreme forms, slit at the sides; then came the tight sheath, which was only a degree more comfortable, but now we have the graceful, pleated models such as the one illustrated, the pattern for which may be bought in six sizes, from twenty-two to thirty-two inches waist measure. To copy it for the average woman requires six and one-quarter yards of material thirty-six inches wide, or five yards forty-four inches in width.

This design has four gores, with a seam in the center front and center back, and with a similar seam over each hip, finished, as is also the front seam, in tucked effect. Such a skirt offers many possibilities in the way of trimming with the popular button and loop ornaments. It is suitable either for wear with a separate waist or to complete a costume.

If intended for the latter purpose the material employed should be broadcloth, serge or henrietta. A pretty waist garniture to be worn with it could be made like design No. 428, which was shown in the paper a few days ago. Carried out in this style, satin would make an effective trimming. The girdle should be of the satin and the buttons covered with it, the loops of silk cord in a matching shade.

For street wear with shirtwaists, cheviot or tweed would be the best selection, finished with material covered buttons having metal rims.

If a coat is to be made of the same material, the skirt should be without other trimming, but if a coat does not accompany it a pretty finish can be given the skirt by a double set of band trimmings arranged in points, as is shown in the drawing. Such a skirt would be pretty developed in challis, cashmere nun's veiling or voile. The latter, of course, requires a lining, which must be of satin, in a soft, clinging weave, made perfectly plain, in sheath style.

A broadcloth skirt that formed a costume by the use of the waist garniture could have the latter embroidered in a heavily padded design in self tones. The waist over which it is worn should be of a soft silk in a matching shade, the same material being used for the girdle. For a perfectly plain skirt the lowest waist finish, is a belt of the material about two inches wide and lined with satin. This is made with a double row of stitching on each side and fastened to the skirt, so that it adjusts itself when the placket is hooked.

When drop skirts are used the softest silks are necessary for their construction. They are cut without fulness over the hips and are so scant at the lower edge that a slit is made at the left side of the front gore and a pleated fan-shaped panel set in to give the necessary breadth to permit comfort when walking.

SECRETS OF FRENCH LAUNDERERS.

Collars and cuffs need to be laundered more exquisitely than anything else. The method employed by the French launderers is this: After boiling the linens to snowy whiteness, rinse, but do not blue. Leaving them in the water until the starch is ready, put a handful of the dry lumps of any good white starch into a clean basin with a little cold water, and mix (with your hand) till the lumps are smooth, adding more clear water, by degrees, till the mixture is of the consistency of thin cream. Now take half a teaspoonful of borax, and after dissolving it in a cupful of boiling water, add that to your starch. Take a piece of white cured soap and rub it between your hands amongst the starch till the mixture becomes quite frothy. Last of all, add a few drops of blue to give the starch a good color.

Now wring your collars and cuffs and if the starch has settled, mix it up again thoroughly with your hands. Lay the collars neatly together by the bands—four or six at a time, and wash them in the starch, first on one side, then on the other; rub them well, so that if any dirt remains in them, in consequence of imperfect washing previously, that will now disappear. That is one use of the soap.

Wring the collars out of the starch and dry rub them between your knuckles just as if you were washing in air. It takes away the floury part of the starch. Lay the collars and cuffs, one by one, separately on a dry cloth, roll it up over them, wring again to take away extra dampness. Slap the rolled bundle against the table two or three times and the collars are ready to iron.

Have a basin of cold water at your hand and a small piece of soft white rag—part of an old handkerchief will do very well—to use as a dampener.

Inexperienced ironers will find it a help to have a piece of thin muslin to lay over the collars in ironing, just till the surface becomes a little drier; this prevents the irons sticking to the starch. But after a little practice wet ironing may easily be proceeded with quite independent of this assistance.

Unroll the bundle and take out two or three collars. Lay them flat on the table and rub them out with the dampener as smooth as you can get them. See that your iron is very hot and perfectly clean. Pass it twice quickly over the right side of one of the collars; turn the collar, iron twice on the wrong side, iron again, repeating the process so as to dry the collar equally. Each time press a little more heavily and make more effort to smooth the collar.

Continue in this way till steam ceases to rise. Now rub the iron rather heavily over the right side of the collar, as this will impart a nice glossy finish to your work.

MAKE YOUR FANCY BUTTONS.

The latest think in fancy work this season is button covering. Buttons are in evidence everywhere, and the woman who aims at distinctiveness makes her own.

Sometimes she crochets the tops in fine Irish crochet; again she embroiders bits of silk, satin or velvet in heraldic designs, in gold or silver thread.

One girl made herself a set of white satin buttons in several sizes, with her crest done in silver and old blues in the center of each one. The results were charming, if the good taste could be questioned.

Other attractive buttons are in crewel work on close canvas. With these the mold is first covered in silk.

Sometimes velvet or silk has a design stenciled on it, and is made up with a raised rim in contrasting colors. Thus, white velvet buttons, stenciled in dull rose tones, had rims of dull silver.

It is wiser, as a rule, not to attempt to make up the buttons at home. When the embroidery or painting is finished, the coverings are sent to a professional, who covers the molds at a small cost.

EASY TO MAKE.

A sensible as well as useful bit of fancy work would be an embroidered pique mat, lined with asbestos, to use under hot dishes. It is made in two pieces, oblong in shape, about nine by twelve inches.

The upper part has the design embroidered upon it and the underneath part is left open lengthwise down the center, with a narrow hem on both sides.

The wreathlike design of small flowers, lilies and leaves runs around the mat. This should be well padded and worked solid.

When this is finished the two parts are basted together and joined with small buttonholed scallops. This asbestos mat is slipped through the opening underneath.

IN FRENCH STYLE.

Corset covers are such interesting pickup work that women never tire of hearing new ways and means, particularly for January, when the winter evenings are long and the afternoons invite in the direction of the sewing basket.

There is a most convenient narrow scalloped edge of embroidery, sold in twelve-yard lengths, resembling so closely the French hand embroidery that it is to be recommended to even the discriminating sewer.

It has one selvage edge, which is to be laid along the low neck of the batiste cover after the raw edge of the garment has been turned over on the right side. Two rows of machine stitching hold it in place and, when the ribbon has been run through eyelet holes worked an inch below the scallops, the general effect will suggest a little French article.

Fads for Women

A novelty in girls' garments is the Geisha frock, and an extremely odd looking one it is. Fashioned from tan linen, it has a pleated skirt attached to a white muslin sleeveless waist (just by way of support), and over it is a blouse cut exactly on the same lines as that worn by a Chinese, ending just over the hips. The neck is cut in a Dutch short square, and the sleeves are bell shape, ending at the elbows.

The dress may be worn with a guimpe or not, as preferred.

The hem of the blouse, also edges of sleeves and neck, are decorated with a simple embroidery worked in white thread.

The distinguishing feature of this new design is the addition of lingerie frilling. On the lower edge, at under arm seams, the blouse is cut away for about six by four inches and the space filled in with the frilling. There is a similar effect given at the edges of the bell sleeves with a narrower frilling.

A very beautiful wicker table of a most substantial make is in octagon shape. The top is mounted on a hollow pedestal, also formed of eight sides, and one opens as a cute little door, fitted with hinges and fasteners, disclosing an ample closet for the stowing of books, sewing or other feminine effects.

A clever little device for kitchen use is an instrument for removing the pin feathers from poultry.

It only costs twenty-five cents and will save lots of time, so it is said. And another little contrivance is a wooden rack that can be placed on a table, tubs or sink that will receive and drain fifteen plates, if they are in edgeways.

By the time the dishes are washed the first one is almost dry, and only needs polishing.

Inventions for saving space are being brought out every day, and among these novelties is a hook shaped like a long loop for screwing to a closet door. A dozen or more garments, if first placed on coat hangers, may be hung from this loop.

Then there is a rack for shoes, taking three pairs, that can be screwed to a door. It is nickel on steel and is fitted with teeth, upon which the heels of the shoes rest. This shoe rail is most compact. It can be folded for traveling and costs only twenty-five cents.

Among the improvements in bath room fittings is a shaving brush holder so devised that the bristles may hang downward when the brush is in position. In this way the water drains away instead of remaining at the root of the bristles. It is in nickel, so is easily kept clean.

Another dainty furnishing for the bathroom is a pear-shaped handle of white celluloid, fitted with a snap hook for attaching to the chain. The usual handle is wooden. It is claimed that the celluloid is more sanitary.

One of the prettiest sewing tables seen among the novelties this season is of green and white wicker carried out exactly like a suit case.

Opened it reveals one-third of the basket fitted with cretonne, forming bags into which sewing may be dropped, and above are shelves, some of which have a row of tall pins or spikes for holding spools of cotton. It is most compact and so light that it can be easily carried if necessary.

A LIVE WIRE, INDEED.

When Governor Hanly, in his annual message, admonished the legislature that the county option law was a "live wire with enough electricity in it to electrocute any political party that repealed it," he gave utterance to nothing fanciful or exaggerated.

The county option law is endorsed by a majority of the people of the state and the legislature will invite the wrath of this majority should the law be repealed. Such test as the law has had in several counties of the state furnishes impressive demonstration of the regard the people have for it as an instrumentality for dealing with the saloon problem. While there may have been some citizens friendly to option who opposed enactment of the law at the time of the special session on the ground that it was politically inexpedient to force the issue then, all such now are zealous in their support of the measure and they estimate it wholly upon its merits as a measure against the saloon evil. Moreover, there is no political line dividing those who are for and those who are against the option law. Democrats and republicans alike, in all communities, are advocates and supporters of the option law.

We do not believe the law will be repealed. If, however, it should, it will be found that Governor Hanly is a very reliable prophet.

The appropriation of large sums of money for road building by state legislatures is a policy that finds great public favor. There are few purposes for which the surplus funds in State treasuries could be expended with greater general advantage. The chiefest difficulty to be overcome is to secure the adoption of a system of operation insuring adequate return for outlay. This can only be effected through the employment of competent supervisory and engineering officials. Under a disordered system of road improvement great opportunities of grafting would be opened up to political spoilsmen who are ever alert to illicit opportunity to rob the government. With a view to the prevention of abuses in road building Governor Hughes, of New York, has placed in the competitive class the state officials who will have under their control the work of construction. Fitness, not political favor, will hereafter be the rule of selection in the highway service. This action of Governor Hughes will disgust political traders, but it will go far to secure for the people of New York an adequate return for proposed munificent expenditure.

"Incurable" Heart Disease Soon Cured

By the Great Specialist in Treating Weak and Diseased Hearts, FRANKLIN MILES, M. D., LL. B.

Who Will Send $2.50 Worth of Improved Treatment and Heart Book Free.

To demonstrate the remarkable curative powers of his Improved Special Treatments for heart disease, short breath, pain in the side, oppression in the chest, irregular pulse, palpitation, smothering spells, puffing of the ankles or dropsy, Dr. Miles will send free, to every afflicted person, $2.50 worth of treatment. The worst cases soon relieved.

They are the result of 28 years of extensive research and remarkable success in treating the various ailments of the heart, stomach and nerves, which so often complicate each case. So astonishing are the results of his treatments in most cases, that he does not hesitate to freely offer to all afflicted persons a two-pound specially prescribed Trial Treatment free.

Certainly nothing could be more generous. Few physicians have such confidence in their treatments. There is no reason why all afflicted persons should not avail themselves of this liberal offer, as they may never have such an opportunity again. Delays are dangerous. No death comes more suddenly than that from heart disease.

Mr. J. B. Hann, 119 W. Maryland St., Indianapolis, Ind., cured after 2 physicians failed. Mrs. Elvina Sonders, Decatur, Neb., after 10 failed. Mr. P. W. Runyan, Spencer, Iowa, after 3 failed. Mr. L. A. Prout, Lisbon Falls, Me., after 12 failed. Mrs. Mary DeHart, Greenville, Pa., after 11 failed. Mrs. Elizabeth Beal, Eaglesport, O., after 4 failed. Other cures from your state sent on request. Many cured after 5 to 15 physicians and professors had pronounced them "incurable."

Send at once to Dr. Franklin Miles, Dept. H., 918 to 928 Main St., Elkhart, Indiana, for Heart Book, Examination Chart, Opinion and Free Treatment. Describe your case.

When a final summing up shall have become possible it doubtless will be found that the earthquake in Sicily and southern Italy was on all accounts the most destructive catastrophe the world has ever known. It is estimated that in property destruction alone the loss at Messina is $400,000,000 and at Reggio $200,000,000. Other cities and towns damaged or destroyed will probably bring the total of losses to some figure above three-quarters of a billion dollars. The appalling phase of the catastrophe, of course, is the destruction of life, which conservative estimates now place at 170,000. Exploration of ruins is quite likely to raise the number of dead above this rather than to diminish it. Estimates made a week or more ago that the dead were 200,000, will doubtless be confirmed. History records no catastrophe of such tremendous scope, such an appalling mortality or such a staggering burden of losses.

Ill wind that somebody cannot turn to account. The brain storm in the house over President Roosevelt's imputations that certain members are not all they ought to be, if what gossip says is true, takes the minds of insurgent statesmen off the proposal to convert your Uncle Joe into an interesting relic.

A good many members of the Indiana legislature may not like Governor Hanly, but at the same time they will give serious heed to what he says about the county option law, live wires, electrocution and related topics.

There is no objection in the world to a city called Messina. However, it will in no wise compromise the merits of the place if those who propose to rebuild it locate it some place less exposed to shakes.

The spectacle of T. Taggart trying to look as if he were keeping his hands out of the senatorial fight at Indianapolis is almost pathetic.

Having disposed of the muckrake Mr. Roosevelt is giving energetic attention to the pitchfork.

GUILTY OF JURY BRIBING.

William Bell Convicted in Laporte Circuit Court.

Laporte, Ind., Jan. 9.—William Bell has been found guilty of jury bribing in the Laporte circuit court.

Judge Drummond deferred sentencing Bell until the attorneys for the defendant could file a motion for a new trial. The punishment is two to fourteen years in the state prison.

This disposes of the third member of the quartet concerned in the alleged jury bribery deal which resulted in a jury last October in the Laporte circuit court disagreeing in the case of Steve Juanovitsch against his father-in-law, John Stevens, for ten thousand dollars damages for the alienation of his wife's affections.

New York, Jan. 9.—There exists in New York an organization which, perhaps, does more actual good in the field of charity and covers a wider scope than any other one force making for the assisting and uplifting of society.

The Junior League for the Promotion of Neighborhood Work is the modest title of the organization, and it has already made itself known throughout the nation, not only by its actual accomplishment in New York's poorer districts, but by its example, which has been followed by other similar institutions throughout the land.

Started about seven years ago by a small band of young girls prominent in the social life of this city, with the simple desire of helping personally in some part of the great settlement work among the poorest districts in New York, the society has now a membership of more than three hundred young "society" women, exclusive of the fifty or so debutantes who have been added to the ranks this present season, and scarcely a problem arises in connection with the betterment of the condition of the poor in which the Junior League does not at once evince the keenest interest and wherever possible and practical render very material financial aid.

For the first few years, under the leadership of its organizer and president, Miss Mary Harriman, then scarcely out of her teens, the Junior league did its work entirely in connection with the College Settlement. The rapid growth in membership, the almost unprecedented financial returns from the simple annual entertainments, then given for the support of the league, as well as the very keen interest shown in their work both by outsiders and by the girls in the league themselves, soon made it clear, however, that the young women who make up New York's social world are quite capable of understanding and taking an active part in the work of raising to a higher level of intelligence and greater plane of usefulness the generations growing up in the poorer districts of the city.

Aid for School Children.

District visiting between the public schools and the homes of the scholars by women trained for this service is a work which the Junior league is doing much to promote. The Playground association of New York has received much encouragement and considerable actual help from members of the league, who consider that the number of playgrounds in a crowded tenement district is of the greater importance for the health and morality of the tenement child, and hence for the future citizens of the city.

At the Congestion exhibit, held last winter in the Natural History museum, four models were given by the Junior league and duly exhibited. At present this organization is taking an active part in the great war being carried on against tuberculosis, which is slaying and incapacitating so many hundreds of thousands of men, women and children who might otherwise have proved useful and valuable citizens. At every fair and bazaar held during the month of December in this city the Junior league saw to it that there should be a booth placed for the sale of the Christmas Red Cross stamps, presided over by a member of the league. Hundreds, perhaps thousands of dollars were added to the Red Cross revenues in this way for the extermination of tuberculosis, and this is but an instance of their untiring enthusiasm in this field.

For better organization the several hundred members of the league are divided into eight districts, corresponding to and named in accordance with the public school of that district. Each district has its own separate chairman. In District No. 8, for example, which embraces that section of the city from Ninth to Twenty-ninth street, Fifth avenue to East river, the chairman was made a member of the committee of drama and music of the People's Institute, and through a small fund appropriated by the Junior league the committee took part in the investigation of the picture shows and penny arcades of the city, which investigation had been commenced by an appropriation of the Woman's Municipal league.

In District No. 9, from Canal to Fourteenth street, Broadway to the Hudson river, among other works a gymnasium was started at No. 212 Spring street. Three settlements in the neighborhood shared the use of it, and about one hundred young men under a leader went there during the week, while in the afternoons it was used by the children of the settlements with a weekly attendance of about sixty boys and girls. One excellent thing accomplished by the chairman of this district was the placing of a calcium light on a corner of Leroy and Bedford streets, a dark and unsafe place. This was done through an appeal to the civil authorities.

In District No. 10, Fourteenth to Thirty-fourth street, Fifth avenue to the Hudson river, three girls went regularly last winter to help in the library and with a boys' club at the Hudson Guild house.

In District No. 11, Thirty-fourth to Forty-ninth street, Fifth avenue to the Hudson river, besides other work accomplished all the vacant lots in the district were visited in order to find out which might be available as playgrounds. Also several of the young women were on a school visiting committee. Others visited many of the numerous factories in that district to investigate the needs there and give help wherever possible.

Warren Goddard House and Greenwich House as well as the college settlement have each received considerable help and encouragement from the members of the Junior League, names of its members being frequently seen on the executive committees of these settlement houses, which carrry on such excellent work.

All these are but a small and minor part of the activities coming under the management of the Junior League. At the moment all efforts are being made to organize a regular system of home and school visiting, carried on by trained visitors acting in co-operation with some member of the league to whom they may appeal in case of emergency of a sudden desire for funds. This visitor is an assistant both to the teachers and the parents of the public school children; she visits for the teacher who through lack of time is unable to do this herself the home of any child who has either been absent for any length of time or who in the school room has seemed to be either physically or mentally below the standard, and discovers whether or not the fault is due to home influence, ill treatment or perhaps lack of sufficient nourishment. This woman is not only of incalculable help to the teacher but can also be an immense factor for good in the home which she visits. The idea of the league now is that in each district committees shall be formed who shall know personally and be ready to offer their services to the worker in that district representing the line in which they are.

Auxiliary work is also being attempted in connection with the district trained nurses' and the tuberculosis clinics. The idea of the league now, as expressed by the chairman of the Neighborhood Work Board, Miss Mary Harriman, is that in each district committees shall be formed who shall know personally and offer their services to the worker in that district representing the line in which they personally are most interested, these members to form themselves into auxiliaries to meet and confer with those to whom they have pledged their help.

In this way a member who cannot give regular hours or a great amount of time can do valuable neighborhood work, and can get in touch in a personal way with what is actually occurring among the people of her own district.

Last winter two special meetings were held at the home of Mrs. H. P. Whitney for the purpose of putting before all the members of the league the plan for the home and school visitors working in direct co-operation with members of the society. At these meetings most interesting speeches were delivered by Dr. Dewey, of Columbia university; Miss Julia Richman, district superintendent of public schools, and also by Miss Jane Addams, of Hull House, Chicago, on the subject of social settlement achievements.

So much for the business end of the Junior League, although this sketch is all too brief to give anything but a most inadequate picture of what is being done by the young women in this city to build up a better state and a stronger, more physically powerful people. Without the sustaining committee, who might be classified as the social part of the Junior League, few if any of its activities could be kept up. From the entertainment given each year, and now as well known and important a function as was the Assembly ball of a quarter of a century ago, are derived the funds by means of which the many activities of the league are carried on, and this entertainment is left entirely in the very capable hands of the season's debutantes. The sustaining committee has its own president—this year Miss Carol Harriman—and its own various committees for the play. Only the debutante members may take part in this entertainment, and as it would scarcely be possible for every debutante possessed of histrionic abilities to display her talents, the anxiety of whether or not she is to be elected a member of the society is scarcely over before the decisions have to be made and often ballots taken in the making up of the cast for the play. And great is the disappointment for those whose names are not enrolled among the members or with the cast of the entertainment committee.

Tableaux for Charity.

The first entertainment given by the league consisted of a charming portrayal of living pictures, in which, among other subjects, the then Cryder triplets formed a most charming tableau. So greatly has the society grown and branched out since its organization and so widespread is the interest shown today in its work that last year from the entertainment given at the Hotel Plaza, a charming old English masque, "The Hue and Cry After Cupid," which was followed by a part of Mr. Wilde's comedy, "The Importance of Being Earnest," the extraordinary sum of $7,067 was earned—a tribute indeed to the capacity of the New York debutante.

No active work is done by the debutantes, but through the flower committee, of which Miss Dorraine Roosevelt is chairman, 6,493 bunches of flowers were sent to the various hospitals in New York from the debutante teas, receptions, etc., held throughout the winter. This last is perhaps one of the most pleasure giving of all the good works in which the Junior league is interested.

That the Junior league is an organization possessing almost unlimited powers for good is undeniable, and too much praise cannot be accorded the band of girls who each year give up so much of their time and expend so much of their enthusiasm in helping to better and make happier the lives of those less fortunate than themselves.

Without question the home and the school are the most important factors in the training of the child, no matter of what walk in life, and the Junior league could not do a better work than to co-operate with those trained visitors and nurses, rendering them both personal encouragement and financial aid.

But perhaps the greatest good that is accomplished by the Junior league is done to the members themselves. Once a girl studies the district in which she herself lives, with its very distinct difference between the children of Fifth avenue and the children of First; becomes interested in the number of public schools, playgrounds, diet kitchens, trade schools, etc., which are to be found in that neighborhood, she cannot fail to become awakened to the great social problems of the entire city. There is no limit to the influence for good which may be exerted by a young girl who has sufficient interest in the subject to try to arouse a kindred interest in those older and more influential than herself. And there is much to be done among the closely crowded tenement dwellers in this city.

To the influence of such organizations as the Junior league may well be attributed the character given to the American girl by those who know her best—extraordinary intelligence and breadth of view upon all topics of general interest at home and abroad, untiring energy and pertinacity in putting through a project once determined on, and a wonderful sense of sympathy and tact in dealing with all classes of life with which she may be brought in touch.

TELLS OF RELIEF WORK AMONG THE SUFFERERS

American Woman Relates Interesting Story of Conditions.

Rome, Jan. 9.—Miss May Sherman, of Elizabeth, N. J., who was active in the measures undertaken at Taormina for the relief of the earthquake sufferers and who now is in Rom, today gave further detans of the condition of the refugees who came under her observation. Some of the wounded, she said, were so seriously hurt that there was very little chance of their reaching Catania alive. They were therefore taken from the train and given every attention possible at Taormina. Four of the wounded died during the first two days.

"All the bakers of Taormina," Miss Sherman went on, "were kept at work making bread and they were paid by contributions from the foreign colony. We all did everything possible to obtain clothing to cover the shivering and naked people. There were many children among the refugees who had been made orphans by the earthquake.

"A Mrs. Welch, who had intended going to Messina the day before the earthquake, saved her life by postponing her departure. Mrs. Welch has taken charge of a little girl refugee, evidently of gentle birth, and if she is not claimed will adopt the child.

"Lady Hill and her daughter, who have a school at Taormina in which they teach embroidery, gave themselves up to nursing and caring for the sufferers, receiving some in their own villa.

"I was much struck by the behavior of the refugees. They seemed dazed with terror and suffering, but they were absolutely uncomplaining. They were ready to share whatever was given them with each other, and even those that were suffering the most did not neglect to thank us for the kindnesses shown."

COMMITTEE POSTPONED ACTION.

Will Invite Railroad Representatives to Meeting.

The city council committees on track elevation and rules, regulations and ordinances held a meeting last night to consider the declaratory resolution passed by the board of public works and sent to council for approval, but decided to wait before taking any action until the representatives of the railroad companies have had an opportunity to be heard. For this purpose a meeting will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

City Attorney Guy Colerick was present and explained to the members of the committees the legal routine through which the resolution will have to pass before the actual work of raising the tracks can be taken up and he also said the council had the right, in his opinion, to make any changes or modifications that may seem necessary just as in any contract submitted to the body.

THE DEADLY PARALLEL.

THIS is the story Grandpa sent. It had the proper Sentiment.	THIS is the story Grandpa told His little grandson, Six years old.
It told of noble Wilfred Booth, Who clung intently To the truth.	He took that grandson On his knee And said: "A pirate Roamed the sea—
All nicely printed In a book— You guessed its structure At a look.	"A fierce old pirate Ten feet high, With dark blue whiskers— My, oh, my!
Poor Wilfred, tempted, Would not lie, He said that he would Rather die!	"He had a cutlass Six feet long And fought while singing A wild song.
Though many chances Came to him To slip and thus get In the swim,	"He captured vessels Right and left And slew the crews with Slashes deft.
Poor Wilfred stanchly Stood his ground And in a lie was Never found.	"He hid his treasure In the sand And ruled like slaves his Pirate band.
His face was pallid As his hair. He never would be Heard to swear.	"Men tried to catch him— Long they sought, But each time was the Catcher caught.
One day some wicked Boys came by And lured him with an Awful lie!	"He'd stand his victims On their decks And blow their vessels Into wrecks!
They tempted Wilfred— Don't you see?— To take some apples From a tree.	"And then he'd voyage On and on Till no one knew where He had gone.
They vowed the farmer Said they might Thus satiate their Appetite.	"He sank a million Ships or so; How much he plundered I don't know.
The farmer, angered, Got his gun; The bad companions Ran, each one.	"One day this pirate Ceased to roam And, dressed up splendid, Came back home.
The farmer's musket Banged away And killed poor Wilfred! Fatal day!	"He, only, came back. All the rest He killed and got his Treasure chest!"
A helpful moral Tagged the tale To make it proper Without fail.	'Twas this that grandpa Told, and then Grandson sighed, "Tell it All again!"

Electric Talks
No. 1

What are THE GREATER NEEDS of Fort Wayne?

1909 promises to be a great year in the growth and development of the city.

But it is one thing to grow and another to grow HEALTHFULLY—one to develop and another to develop ALONG RIGHT LINES.

In other words, doing things is just half the story of progress; the other half is in not doing things that later must be done.

So right at the opening of the year it seems to us a favorable time to TALK THINGS OVER. There is nothing like a good, open talk and plenty of it to clear the air of misunderstandings and to unite an entire community on what should be DONE, what should be DONE FIRST and what should NOT BE DONE at all.

As no talks can be effectively addressed to the limited few, these talks will be restricted only by the circulation of the five dailies and one weekly of the city. They will not be controversial, least of all, political, but will adhere strictly to the facts carefully verified.

As one of the two largest taxpayers of Fort Wayne, interested in every step of real progress in its development as an industrial and trade center, and as a residence city, with a record for public spirit and civic loyalty, we feel that this Company needs no excuse for setting this particular ball a-rolling.

So let us TALK.

In these TALKS on the "Greater Needs of Fort Wayne" we do not know of any member of this community more vitally interested than ourselves. The city's best interest are our own in a way and to a degree not easily overestimated.

When one stops to consider what a street railway and electric light plant, owned and operated by a public corporation, does for the community not only as a taxpayer, but as a public servant ,the importance of its fair treatment, of its encouragement by the community and of cordial relations between community and company becomes emphasized.

What both can do, working in harmony, to secure a better, brighter, more attractive city is beyond compute. Their obligations are reciprocal.

We hope to AVOID DIFFERENCES by talking over things.

Addressing ourselves to these TALKS, we shall take it for granted that we are all agreed on certain truths of a rather self-evident nature, so scarcely needing argument, such as:

Cities, like citizens, have certain needs more urgent than others.
It is the urgencies that should receive earliest attention.
Concerns of the few are subordinate to the concerns of all.
Municipalities should do business, not get sentimental.
The place to stop on a wrong course is near "THE POINT OF BEGINNING."

IN OUR NEXT TALK

We shall take up one of the dangers that threaten the city, because of both the injustice to the community and the financial folly involved. It should be stopped AT THE POINT OF BEGINNING.

PROMPT SERVICE
DON'T BE DECEIVED
The City Fuel Co.
Gives coal to the poor every day, and don't wish to publish it or ask you to boost for them on that account, and make it a personal gain.
To give to the poor they deem a personal privilege. They believe that the noblest charity is to help a man to help himself—and they do this when you buy from them, for they give you what is coming to you in QUALITY and QUANTITY, and at a fair price that is no higher than elsewhere.
Their prices being no higher than elsewhere does not signify a combine. But they do say that you can get cleaner fuel from them than you can get elsewhere. They handle the best grades of Hocking Valley, West Virginia, Jackson, Massilon, Cannell, Kentucky and Indiana Coal; also Wash Nut, Charcoal, Coke, Wood and Kindling. This coal is all under shed, and you don't get a frozen lump of slack for lump coal. Their hard coal is the celebrated Scranton which they handle through elevated coal bins and it must be clean, for it cannot reach their wagons without passing over screens. Their delivery is made with one-horse wagons. This is the latest custom in all large cities and gives perfect assurance against mistakes over the old way of hauling your order and four or five others on the same load with chances that you get coal which you did not buy.
Their double system of weighing can't be beat. First by a competent, bonded weighmaster at their yards, then over the city scales. You can rush them if you wish to and see if they give you 1,820 pounds or 1,930 pounds for a ton, and then compel them to make an explanation as to how it happened Then they have an inspector whose duty it is to see that drivers don't sell a part of your load before reaching you and that the delivery is with care and no overcharges are made for carrying.
The Lakeside, Main Street and Spy Run cars reach their yard on the corner of Lafayette St. and Nickel Plate Railroad, and they invite the public to inspect their coal before buying.

IN THE CITY'S CHURCHES

GREAT SUCCESS ATTENDS CONDUCT OF MONTH'S REVIVALS

Large Congregations Throng Churches at Evangelistic Meetings.

REV. C. R. HAUDENSCHIELD, Evangelist Who Is Conducting Successful Meetings at Wayne Street M. E. Church.

The expression of the great apostle of the Gentiles, "Now is the acceptable time, now is the time of salvation," is undoubtedly considered by local ministers particularly applicable to the month of January. Many have started great evangelistic meetings for the month and that they are growing in interest and being marked with success is evidenced by the manner in which they are attended. Several pastors whose revivals did not begin with the new year will inaugurate the work before the month closes. Beginning with the service tomorrow a revival will open at Simpson Methodist Episcopal church and will probably continue throughout January. The pastor, Rev. Loren M. Edwards, will deliver a discourse on "The Victories of Faith" at the morning service, and at the praise meeting in the evening will be heard on "Revival Allies." Services will be held each evening during the coming week except Saturday.

The revival services in progress at Plymouth Congregational church have been characterized by splendid congregations. Rev. J. M. Sturtevant, D. D., an eminent evangelist from Chicago, is in charge of the work. As originally planned the special meetings will continue over until next Wednesday evening inclusive. On Monday evening Dr. Sturtevant will speak to men only on "The Temptations and Opportunities of Men." On Tuesday evening his topic will be "Responsibility," and on Wednesday evening "How to Find God." Rev. Dr. Henry T. Sell cordially invites all who are interested to attend the meetings.

The week of prayer observed with a series of cottage prayer meetings by the Third Presbyterian church has proven such a blessing that the session feels justified in announcing special services of an evangelistic character at the church next week. They will begin on Tuesday evening, continuing until Friday evening inclusive. Rev. Dr. Frank Fox will deliver a sermon each evening and special music will be rendered by the choir.

Rev. William P. Shamhart continues to be greeted by large and enthusiastic audiences at the nine months' revival recently opened at the West Creighton Avenue Church of Christ. At the Sunday morning service he will deliver a sermon entitled "A Son of God" and at the evening service will preach on "[illegible] Preparing to Meet God." His capable chorus leader, Prof. Wm. H. [illegible], of Caledonia, O., will conduct a rehearsal tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. Shamhart's topics for the evening meetings next week will be as follows: Monday, "After This—What?" Tuesday, "Who Art Thou, Lord?" Wednesday, "What Wilt Thou Have Me to Do?" Thursday, "The Man Who Cannot Come;" Friday, "The Gospel Shamrock."

The month's evangelistic meetings at Wayne Street Methodist Episcopal church are growing in interest and on Thursday evening the evangelist, Rev. C. R. Haudenschield, D. D., of Chicago, was greeted by an immense congregation. It was the largest since the opening of the revival last Sunday. His sermon on "The Only Condition of Entering Heaven" emphasized the necessity of the new birth and was probably one of the strongest he has delivered thus far. At the Sunday morning service he will preach on "True Courage," and in the evening on "The Law of God." He will also address the members of the Sunday school tomorrow morning at their meeting at 9:30 o'clock, and the Epworth League rally tomorrow evening at 6:30 o'clock. The bible study on "The Power of the Word" on Friday afternoon was very interesting and a large number were in attendance. The next cottage prayer meetings under the auspices of the church will be held on Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock and the next bible study on the afternoon of the same day at 2:30 o'clock.

Large audiences, stirring sermons and excellent chorus work characterize the month's revival that opened Wednesday evening at the First Methodist Episcopal church. The pastor, Rev. Charles A. Rowand, is conducting the evangelistic work and is assisted by Rev. Herbert H. Deem, of Bluffton, a gifted gospel singer. The sermons and services tomorrow will be of especial import and there will be revival work in all departments of the church.

Gospel meetings at Trinity Methodist Episcopal church will begin Sunday evening, January 17, under the direction of the pastor, Rev. William P. Herron.

The revival services in progress at the Free Methodist church are continuing to attract large and appreciative audiences. Services will be held this evening and Sunday morning and evening under the direction of the pastor, Rev. Wm. T. Loring.

BETTER THAN SPANKING.

Spanking does not cure children of bed wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W, Notre Dame, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

Weak Little Boys

may become fine strong men. Some of the strong men of to-day were sickly boys years ago. Many of them received at their mother's knee. This had a power in it that changed them from weak, delicate boys into strong, robust boys.

It has the same power to-day. Boys and girls who are pale and weak get food and energy out of Scott's Emulsion. It makes children grow.

TERRE HAUTE LINES UP A BIG SQUAD FOR 1909

Eleven Pitchers Will Report to That Club in the Spring.

Terre Haute has traded Pitcher Jimmy Drohan, of last season's squad, to the Oklahoma City club for Pitcher Charles Bemis and announcement is made that the Tot staff will be picked from eleven twirlers who have been ordered to report for work in the spring. This is the same number of men who will be ordered to report at Fort Wayne.

It is practically sure that George Schafer, Claude Douthett and "Piggy" Miner will stick, if the latter can keep a steady seat on the sprinkling cart, but there is no likelihood that Barney Schelber will go back. He is slated for New York, but will probably land with Indianapolis for a little more seasoning. Among the men named on the staff is Cy Stout, who is again trying to break into the Central league.

From Cincinnati comes the news that Claude H. Varnell, while he was in attendance at the meeting of the national commission, made an offer for Clarence H. "Red" Munson, of last season's Canton team, who was declared a free agent because a note for $110 of back salary had not been met when it was due.

Munson wanted to go south with the Cincinnati Nationals just for the practice and asked to be taken without salary, but Manager Clark Griffith has four catchers of his own and found he did not need him. Mr. Varnell has a good staff of catchers, but is not permitting anything to get by him that will improve the Fort Wayne club.

Among the men signed by President Harry Pulliam, of the National league, for the staff of umpires is Harry Truby, who formerly played second base for the Dayton team of the Interstate league. He worked first as an umpire in the Virginia league then went to the South Atlantic and finished up with the Ohio State league. Bobby Quinn recommended him.

If Grant remains as manager, South Bend looks like a one, two, three team from the start. Pitcher Moore and Catcher "Heinie" Tieman are the only two who are not sure to be in the line-up next season. Tieman was injured in the south and may have to quit the game. While the Benders never looked like a good team on the local field, yet they finished second. Their strength was in their pitchers. Any manager when asked about the Benders last season would remark, "Grant's pitchers are going in great shape, that's where they are strong." Grant can be depended upon to have another good string of flingers for next season. The rest of his team needs little attention. So, while Grant looks for a heaver or two, other managers are after infielders, outfielders and pitchers at the same time.

Any changes in the circuit are almost out of the question, so the magnates will have only this question to consider other than the routine business of deciding on an opening date, length of schedule and other matters which are always a part of the meetings. It seems that the anti-farming rule is almost sure to be passed. There may be some objections raised between the present and the time of the meeting, but reports from the towns of the circuit seem to favor the idea of having Central league players all the property of Central league teams.

CURLERS AT WORK

Three games were played by the curlers at their rink last night and some excellent sport was enjoyed by the members of the rinks. The scores and players are as follows:

Dr. George Gillie, H. E. Eade, F. A. Emrick and W. P. Manson (skip), 8. J. Clark, John Kidd, C. E. Reuss, C. F. Centlivre and William Lawson (skip), 7

John M. E. Riedel, L. Tucker, Clarence Centlivre and T. L. Staples (skip), 7. H. Fleckenstein, J. C. Richardson, Ray Pion, D. McKay and A. E. Carroll (skip), 7.

Story Corner for Base Ball Fans

The American league is entering upon a new era. When it acquired its prominence as a rival of the National league it secured its greatest strength by inducing the majority of the best players in the old league to join the newer organization. The result was that the National league was forced to beat the bushes for other men, and it soon filled up its ranks with younger players who are now in their prime, while the stars that the American grabbed from the National have retrograded.

For the last two or three years, however, the American has been weeding out the aged veterans, the ones that took on too much weight, those that lost their throwing arms, the ones that became divorced from their former speed. New blood is taking the place of these men that were once the most famous in the business, and within a few years there will not be any of the old guards left.

It was only a few years ago that "Buck" Freeman, Jimmy Collins, "Kip" Selbach, Bill Bernhard, Case Patten, Jesse Tannehill and Al Orth were counted among the best in the land. In fact, each of those mentioned, as well as many others that are now in the minors, received fancy salaries as members of the American league clubs.

"Buck" Freeman, the home-run hitter, is now in the American association and finding trouble in hitting the A. A. pitchers. In the same organization are Charley Hickman, once the idol of the Cleveland fans; Monte Cross, "Bunk" Congalton, Eddie Stever, Roy Patterson, Otto Hess and Frank Kitson.

Lave Cross is a class C manager, "Kip" Selbach is showing only fairly well in the Tri-State league, Jack Warner is about to go to Texas to manage the Galveston club, Jim McGuire has practically quit as a player. Malachi Kittredge is a New York State league manager, Jack O'Connor is merely a coacher and Fred Buelow has recently been purchased by Montreal. Walter Clarkson has quit the game, Bill Bernhard is a Southern league manager, Al Orth is managing a club in the Virginia league, Jack Townsend is in the Tri-State and Andy Coakley is now in the National league.

Now "Sox" Seybold and Jimmy Collins have been released by Connie Mack. Seybold will probably go to Toledo, while Collins' destination will be Buffalo. Players that are destined to follow them soon are George Davis, Bill Coughlin, Willie Keeler, Nick Altrock, Frank Owen, Jesse Tannehill and Case Patten.

Collins May Go to Buffalo.

Jimmy Collins will probably wind up his baseball career right where he started in his home town, Buffalo. It was some fourteen or fifteen years ago that Collins' work with the North Buffalos, an amateur club, attracted the attention of the management of the Buffalo club. The home boy was given a trial and made good at once. The following winter Boston purchased him and "Chick" Stahl, the latter having pitched and played center for Buffalo. Boston played Collins in the outfield, where he failed to shine. Louisville needing a player, Collins was then loaned. The manager of the Colonels sent him to third base, his real position, and since that time he has never been called upon to play any other spot. From six to ten years ago Collins was at his best. Under his management the Boston Americans won two pennants and one world's championship. He always starred as a batter, but it was as third sacker and a brainy player that he really showed the greatest value. In fielding, he was second to Wallace in 1898, second to Lave Cross in 1899 and 1900, fourth to Bradley in 1901, third to Cross and Coughlin in 1902, third to Tannehill and Bradley in 1903, while he led the third sackers in 1904. Since 1904 his fielding has not been sensational.

In Seybold, the American league loses one of its unique figures. He was the largest player in the circuit, but for all his size he got over the ground as well as many a lighter man, while his great strength and weight gave him tremendous hitting power when coupled with the batting eyes which he possessed.

He is not a very old player at that. He started with Cincinnati in 1899, but was farmed out to Indianapolis. When the American league expanded in 1901 he went along to Philadelphia, and has been there ever since. As a home-run hitter he had no rivals except "Buck" Freeman and Harry Davis.

His exit from the league was probably hastened by an accident he suffered in New Orlans a year ago, breaking the bones of an ankle in sliding into the home plate. This kept him out of the game most of the season and impaired his batting ability.

GRAND RAPIDS PARK MUDDLE IS NOT SETTLED

New Ordinance Fixes Annual License of Ten Dollars.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Jan. 9.—If the proposed base ball ordinance as it now stands is submitted to the common council and is adopted by that body the Grand Rapids Central league team will be forced to turn over $10 a year for the privilege of playing base ball within the city limits.

The ordinance has been drafted by the council committee on ordinances of which Alderman McNabb is chairman, and is now in the hands of the city attorney. It is the ordinance which the residents of the Twelfth ward, who object to the playing of base ball on the Hall street grounds, asked for. But, woe to the Twelfth warders, the ordinance as it now stands will not prevent the base ball games from being played in the old location.

But there is one thing in the ordinance which may bring joy to the hearts of Alderman Karel's and Alderman Roberts' constituents and that lies in the fact that the club must secure a license through the council in the ordinary way. If the council should hold up the license—then there might be an excuse for the Twelfth warders to form a mutual admiration society.

The proposed ordinance is intended to apply only to regularly organized clubs charging an admission fee to games. The games of "one old cat" and the league which holds forth on the Mud flats will not be affected. The ordinance may be reported out to the council Monday night, but the members of the committee are not fully satisfied with it yet and some changes may be made.

The city league games will, of course, not be affected as their games are played outside the city limits. It becomes merely a question as to whether the council will grant a license to Annis. If it does, well and good, nothing but an injunction can prevent base ball at Loyalty park next year.

Jan. 18 has been set as the date for the Central league annual meeting at South Bend. The meeting will be especially interesting locally, as it will determine the exact status of Grand Rapids base ball, for Annis must show his hand. The belief grows stronger each day that he will have to entrust Grant with the venture.

TO "BOOK" DOLIN FOR SUMMER.

Manager Signs Contract for Mike to Appear at Hammerstein's.

New York, Jan. 9.—Mike Dolin, the heavy-hitting fielder of the Giants, has been booked to appear at Hammerstein's Victoria theater for two weeks, giving two performances a day, starting April 12. M. S. Bentham, the vaudeville agent, who is really the manager of Dolin and Mable Hite and who "books" their sketch on the stage, signed a contract yesterday afternoon with William Hammerstein. In addition to this, Mr. Bentham announced that he would at once begin to book Dolin and Miss Hite for the entire summer.

John J. McGraw, manager of the Giants, sent Dolin the following telegram on Wednesday: "It can be arranged for you to report to the team in south two weeks later than date others go to Texas. Hope this is satisfactory." Dolan has not replied to this message.

LUMLEY TO MANAGE SUPERBAS.

New York, Jan. 9.—President Charles H. Ebbetts, of the Brooklyn base ball club, announced that he had signed Harry Lumley as manager of the Superbas for 1909. Lumley played right field on the Brooklyn team last season and was second choice for the managerial position. Ebbetts was desirous of securing Bill Dahlen, the Boston shortstop, to manage his team, but after a prolonged try he finally gave up hope and selected Lumley.

SPORTING NEWS NOTES.

Pitcher Duggleby is to coach Cornell twirlers for a few weeks before he reports for training duty in the south.

Seven cases of beer were sent to "Rube" Waddell by a St. Louis firm as a Christmas present. Waddel sent them back (?).

Connie Mack will have more collegians in his training camp than any other manager in either league. He has a whole platoon of the educated athletes.

Johnny McGraw is using the Giants who winter in New York to good advantage. He is running a billiard tourney for the bunch. It is not true that any who refuse to enter will be sold to Brooklyn.

Tom Daly, the veteran catcher and former White Sox infielder, is slated for the job of official scout for the Brooklyn club and expects to be signed as soon as Brooklyn gets a manager.

"Nig" Clarke, Cleveland catcher, has sold his farm at Sandwich, Ont., and he and his wife will make Cleveland their home hereafter.

The organization of a stock company to run a ball team in Youngstown has been started. Efforts are being made to subscribe $10,000 to promote the game there.

Bill Coughlin, veteran third baseman of the Detroit American club, has been sold to Albany, of the New York State league. Coughlin will manage the club.

Six men are after the job as president of the Ohio-Pennsylvania league. Charles Morton will resign from the position.

Johnny Kling, Chicago Cub catcher, has opened one of the finest billiard parlors in the country in Kansas City. His old place was remodeled, the catcher spending in the neighborhood of $4,000 for repairs.

Although Matty McIntyre, Detroit outfielder, who has appendicitis, is reported as improved, his sickness may keep him from going south with the Tigers in the spring.

BOWLERS LINING UP FOR THE ANNUAL MEETING

Three Teams Going to the Tournament from Fort Wayne.

Three teams, more than have ever represented Fort Wayne at an annual meeting of the American Bowling congress, will go to Pittsburg next month to what promises to be the biggest tournament in the history of the organization.

There were two teams last year and a number of doubles and singles but the advent of Ora Tonkel with his crowd of Elks will make a third team and will also materially increase the two-men teams and the individual bowlers. Mr. Tonkel has about lined up his club and the excellent new alleys in the Elks' temple will give the men the best chance on earth to prime themselves for the great event.

The Centlivre Brewing company will enter one team in the meeting and the Berghoff company will enter a third one which will give all of the best bowlers of the city a chance to make some money at the meeting. Last season indicated that Fort Wayne is a recognized bowling center but many of the older bowlers were not satisfied with conditions and did not enter organized bowling during the winter months.

William McKay, former proprietor of the Brunswick alleys, roused enthusiasm in the city when he put the alleys in and for two years under his management the sport was at high tide. Each season that he was the head of the bowling alleys he equipped teams and sent them to the big tournaments and paid every dollar of expense including the entrance fees and asked no part of the prize money the bowlers won.

Since he dropped out, however, no other owner has ever taken this custom up and for that reason the brewing companies took the matter up last year and sent clubs to Cincinnati. The showing was first class and now that the Elks alleys are open an opportunity is afforded a number of players who had dropped out of the game for many months. None of the teams are ready to announce the names of the players.

Fred Polhoff, of the First National bank, is ill.

FINAL EFFORT WILL BE MADE BY THE LEAGUE

Basket Ball Players to Hold a Meeting at Library Hall.

A final effort to launch the recently organized basket ball league will be made at a meeting to be held at Library hall tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at which all of the club representatives are asked to be present.

If proper enthusiasm is indicated by the players the schedule will be opened next week for two games and the sport will be tried on the Fort Wayne public. Since the organization was formed the teams have been working so that they would be able to put on a class of basket ball of good enough caliber to ask public patronage and there is little doubt but that the quality of the play will be good enough to interest the patrons.

The battery declined to put a team in the field for the reason that it was feared the playing might interfere with drill nights. The officers say that the new guns require a lot of hard work on the part of the men and they don't want to take on anything else that would have a tendency to interfere with this.

Other teams, however, that are desirous of entering the organization will be given berths if they are represented at the meeting called for tomorrow afternoon.

Manager Fred Jesse, of the Actives, the team representing the Vorwaerts, has been working hard with his club and wants a few games with the other clubs o fthe city. He can be reached at 1330 Erie street. He expects to cut a figure in the new league and will have his team on for one of the opening battles of the campaign. The line-up is as follows: Charles Leuenberger, right forward; Ed Fortriede, left forward; William Bachman, center; Sig Felge, left guard; Fred Jesse, right guard; Waldemar Fortriede, substitute.

The Rome City Cottagers' association of Fort Wayne, will hold a meeting next week at a time and place to be announced later.

Henry Hoevel, of Adams township, found one of his horses with a broken leg Friday morning, and was compelled to shoot the animal. It is not known how the accident occurred.

DR. HARDMAN, Specialist

Cures Pelvic, Nervous and Chronic Diseases and Guarantees Satisfactory Results in All Cases He Accepts for Treatment.

SCIENTIFIC AND THOROUGH EXAMINATION—I have made it a point never to treat any case until I had made a careful and thorough examination and definitely located the cause of the trouble. This takes time, care and a complete and scientific knowledge of the parts affected both in health and in disease. The human body is a most complicated piece of mechanism. In fact, so complicated that it is impossible for any one person to thoroughly understand its normal, or healthy condition. How much more impossible then, would it be to understand all the diseased conditions that may arise?

Knowing as I do the absolute futility of attempting to successfully treat every disease, I have limited my study to PELVIC, CHRONIC AND NERVOUS DISEASES, and my many years of experience in their treatment have enabled me to perfect methods which will positively and permanently restore to perfect health nearly all these conditions in which the ordinary methods have failed.

NERVOUS BREAKDOWN and nearly all nervous diseases are the direct result of CHRONIC or imperfectly treated PELVIC DISEASES. By my special methods in the treatment and care of these diseases I not only remove every trace of the disease itself but am able to restore to a normal and healthy condition the broken-down and devitalized nervous system.

VARICOCELE, STRICTURE, RUPTURE, PILES, FISTULA, ETC., cured without knife and without detention from business.

BLOOD POISON—I use only the most advanced methods in the treatment of Blood Poison and kindred diseases.

ECZEMA and other skin diseases quickly cured.

PROSTATIC ENLARGEMENT—This may result from a number of causes. The constant jarring and vibration of trains and trolley cars are a very potent cause. Bicycle riding and the use of riding implements or the farm are factors in producing this disease. In fact the causes are so many and varied that fully 75 per cent of all male adults are afflicted to a greater or less extent by this disease. The disease is so little understood, and as one of the principal symptoms is a pain in the back, it is usually called kidney trouble and treated with local applications or sedatives which can do no possible good whatever. I reduce the enlargement and have been able to cure about 90 per cent of all cases.

The Teutonia Singing society of Emanuel's Lutheran church disbanded last night for want of support.

The M. E. college yesterday got a legacy of $3,000 from a prominent member of the Methodist church.

The members of the Lutheran Library association have started a singing society under the leadership of Prof. Gerberding, of St. Paul's Lutheran church.

Councilman Mohr introduced an ordinance last night for a return to the old or sun time in this city. This is in accordance with the wishes of business men, who are tired of the standard time arrangement.

Dr. Th. Heuchling was again elected secretary of the city board of health last night. He wants an ordinance making it necessary for undertakers to get burial permits from the city clerk. The scheme of getting reports from the doctors is a failure.

J. H. Bass, Pliny Hoagland, A. P. Edgerton, J. D. Nuttman and other residents of West Berry street petitioned the city council to allow the speeding of horses on Berry street during the sleighing season from 2 to 5 p. m. Referred to the committee on rules, regulations and ordinances.

It develops that Prof. Clippinger, of the M. E. college, has made a proposition to the people of Wabash that the M. E. college would be moved there if $20,000 and twelve acres of land were donated it. The Wabash folks accepted the proposition, which now only awaits the sanction of the college trustees. If Fort Wayne people act instantly, and give about $10,000, the college can be kept here.

The new superior court jury for the January term was drawn today as follows: Nelson B. Hall, Springfield township; Samuel Bolyard, Jackson; Joseph Richart, Milan; Christian Triplett, Fort Wayne; Henry Young, St. Joseph; William T. Abbott, Washington; Simon Edsall, Adams; Charles H. Philley, Wayne; William Sheban, Monroe; John B. Clapesattle, Lake; John Solway, Monroe; F. W. Kuhne, Fort Wayne.

ELECTRIC WORKS TO EXHIBIT AT SHOW AT CHICAGO

Will Meet Exhibitors from All Over the U. S.—Industrial News.

The Fort Wayne Electric works is preparing a big exhibit for the Electrical show that begins on next Saturday at Chicago and which will take place in the Coliseum. The show is an annual affair and attracts exhibitors from all over this country. There are no products of the local works being turned out specially for this purpose, but the exhibits will be selected from the regular stock on hand, although this is being augmented considerably at the present time.

The Fort Wayne exhibits will consist of various supply articles, meters, transformers, arc lamps, motors, etc., and will be shipped the middle of next week. One whole space on the floor of the Coliseum is reserved for the local concern and the exhibits will be in charge of the officers of the Chicago branch, although several Fort Wayne men will be on hand. The reputation of the local works extends to all countries of the world for numerous medals and prizes have been awarded upon the exhibits of the Fort Wayne concern wherever they have shown. It is safe to predict that several awards will be obtained at the Chicago show.

The show continues for two weeks.

STEEL DINER PUT IN SERVICE.

First of All-Steel Eating Palaces Completed at Altoona.

The first all-steel dining car ever turned out by the Pennsylvania Railroad company was put in service at Altoona Thursday, having been sent east on a test run attached to main line express No. 12. The new diner, No. 4441, the first of a number of all-steel diners ordered by the Pennsy, was completed in the Altoona car shops a few days ago.

The new car, after which all Pennsy dining cars will likely be modeled, is constructed of steel throughout, after the general plan of construction of the new steel passenger coaches, is vestibuled and elaborately equipped with ice closets, ranges, sanitary kitchen, etc. It will accommodate thirty persons seated at the tables at a time and is as long and heavy as one of the new steel passenger coaches.

The new diner, which, if it stands the test trip all right, will at once be put in service on the main line, is finished in dark red and the furnishings, while all of steel, are even more elegant than those of the diners now in use.

EXAMINED GASOLINE MOTOR.

G. R. & I. Officials Return from Trip Into Michigan.

B. H. Hudson, superintendent, and Richard E. Casey, trainmaster, officials of the local division of the Grand Rapids and Indiana road, have returned from a short trip into Michigan, during which they with several of the higher officials living in Grand Rapids tested a gasoline motor car that is manufactured by the Sheffield Car company. The machine tested Thursday has been sold to a southern railway running out of New Orleans and the road officials were invited to examine it. The latter are of the belief that in time the machine will become a very useful one but are not at present satisfied with some of the points about it.

The gasoline machine is of the same kind that almost every road in the country has tested. It is about half as large as an ordinary interurban car and is capable of running at a very good average speed. The test was made on the line between Grand Rapids and Wasepi.

OVERTIME AT ROUND HOUSE.

Big Number of Engines Needing Repairs for Passenger Service.

Eight or nine passenger engines are now waiting in the Pennsylvania round house for repairs and as a result orders were given today for the repairing gangs to work overtime this afternoon. Work on the passenger service is the only excuse for which the men can work overtime according to the bulletin recently issued. It is a very noticeable thing that when one or two engines go wrong, seven or eight more are generally bound to follow and in this way there are intermittent periods of dullness and a rush of work.

THE RUMOR MATERIALIZED.

Forty-Two Men Laid Off in Pennsy Smith and Car Shops.

The rumor that was afloat yesterday among the workers at the Pennsylvania shops that the ax was going to fall in the blacksmithing and east car shops materialized and before the day was over a bulletin was sent out from the master mechanic's office stating that the services of twelve men in the smithing shop and of thirty in the car shops were no longer needed. Those who felt the effect of this order were mostly young married men, as the company endeavors to keep the married men at work as long as possible.

WILL ENLARGE FACTORY.

Number of Changes Planned at Gruber Machine Works.

Frank Gruber, owner of the Gruber Boiler and Machine works on north Barr street, is planning an addition to his plant and several other changes that when perfected will make the plant one of the most modern of the city. W. E. Hardin, for the past ten years the lessee of the founrdy department, has sold his lease to Joseph Steib.

The old foundry has been closed for the past two weeks, but Mr. Steib will resume operations on Monday. The addition to the plant will be situated on the north end of the present property and besides the new building, the old buildings will be considerably repaired. All the patterns to be used in the shop will be made in a room above the machine shop.

INCREASES THE OUTPUT.

Electric Motors at Wabash Machine Shop Are a Great Aid.

It is the belief of Henry Eisele, foreman of the Wabash machine shop, that the output of the shop can be increased fully 50 per cent. by the new electric motors which were installed on Thursday. The new system is working most advantageously and Mr. Eisele states that the workmen are rapidly becoming accustomed to it. With the motors, the various machines are run about twice as fast as by the old steam engines.

LABEL LEAGUE GIVEN CHARTER.

The Fort Wayne Women's Union Label league was officially launched as a branch of the international organization last evening when Mrs. Etta Butts, of Muncie, an official organizer, presented the local officers with the charter and seals. Following this the president appointed several committees, one of which is to draft a set of by-laws. The league is actively engaged in advertising the lecture to be given at the Lyric theater on the 17th of this month. Prospects for making that gathering a big one are at present very bright.

SENDING MESSAGES FREE.

Orders have been issued to all telegraph operators along the C. C. & L. line to transmit any message relative to the relief of the Italian earthquake sufferers free of charge. The messages must be presented, however, by some organized relief committee or city official.

PENNSY ENGINE OUTPUT.

Eleven engines were repaired and put out for service on the Pennsylvania lines this week. This is but two less than the output of last week. The engines are Nos. 7170, 7183, 7200, 7240, 7265, 7390, 7437, 7476, 7489, 7748 and 9381.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

H. Fox, a Pennsylvania carpenter, is on the sick list.

C. A. Agster, a machinist in the Wabash shops, will spend next week visiting in Detroit.

O. W. Schirmeyer, of the Pennsylvania machine shop, is off duty, resulting from sickness.

Fred Gerke, a machine hand in the Pennsylvania shops, is confined to his home from sickness.

C. P. Cherry, storekeeper for the Pennsylvania, is in Pittsburg, where he will remain for a week.

Charles Wilt and Robert C. Smith, of the Pennsylvania shops, are at Rome City, where they will spend Sunday.

August B. Gruber, of the Pennsylvania machine shop, was compelled to leave his work yesterday noon owing to sickness.

J. H. Urshel is at his home in Huntington, where he will remain over Sunday. He is a machinist in the Wabash shops.

James Foster and Ed Hamilton, of the air brake department of the Pennsylvania shops, were off duty today because of sickness.

G. C. Dierstein, an upholsterer in the employ of the Pennsylvania company, was off duty this morning because of sickness.

A. G. Schiermeyer did not report for work at the machine shop of the Pennsylvania company this morning, owing to sickness.

D. F. Miller, a helper in the flue department of the Pennsylvania shops, did not report for work this morning, as his wife is sick.

W. G. Atwood has been named as chief engineer of the Lake Erie, with headquarters at Peru, to succeed G. P. Smith, who was transferred to the Big Four.

Henry Grothaus and W. H. Behrens, of the Pennsylvania yard laboring gang, did not work this morning, as they were confined to their homes with sickness.

Amos Loucks, of the Rhinesmith & Simonson lumber yard, is off duty because of sickness, and Harry Brickley has returned to work after a few days' sickness.

T. J. Shank, who is the general manager of the Bliss Shirt company, now located at Fremont, Ohio, will remove soon to this city, which will hereafter be his headquarters.

There are now nearly 500 people employed at the incandescent lamp works on Holman street and Superintendent K. K. Johns says that the capacity of the plant has been doubled within the past six weeks.

Root Fernwalt, formerly a messenger in the office of Master Mechanic Fitzpatrick, of the Pennsylvania, has been advanced to special apprenticeship duties and his place has been taken by August Kuhlback.

The officers of the local Journeymen Tailors as elected last evening are as follows: President, J. Weidemeyer; financial secretary, William Reiss; corresponding secretary, M. J. O'Brien; treasurer, William Barnhart; sergeant at arms, W. Ward.

The Lake Shore road has offered a reward of $500 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the parties that caused the wreck near Pleasant Lake on New Year's day. The officials of the company are satisfied that it was the result of a tampering with the lock.

Henry Lagemann, the Pennsylvania inspector, who was terribly scalded more than two months ago in the Pennsylvania round house, was permitted to leave the St. Joseph hospital for the second time yesterday in order that he might visit his family. It is probable that he will be able to leave that institution altogether by the end of next week.

Are You Sick?

Much sickness is due to a weak nervous system. Yours may be. If it is, you cannot get well until you restore nerve strength. Your nervous system is nature's power house; the organs of your body get their power from it. If the power is not there, the action of the organs is weak, and disease (sickness) follows. Dr. Miles' Nervine cures the sick because it soothes the irritated and tired nerves and gives the system a chance to recuperate. Try it, and see if you do not quickly feel its beneficial effect.

"I was given up to die by a leading doctor. Got one of Dr. Miles books and found that Dr. Miles' Nervine fit my case. From the very first dose I took I got better. I am better now than I have been for years, and do all my own work on the farm. That's what Dr. Miles' Nervine has done for me, and I am glad to recommend it to others."

Beauty and Bad Breath

Cannot Go Together No Matter How a Woman May Try to Make Them.

It does not matter how beautiful a woman may be, if she is afflicted with bad breath she will be shunned and pitied by men and even women will studiously avoid her.

If any woman doubts this statement let her make a point of asking a friend in whom she may confide, a man friend or relative. If he be honest he will tell her that foul breath from the mouth of a woman will drive men from her more rapidly than any other personal affliction.

Foul breath arouses in man disgust and where this quality is brought into play no amount of self-denial or reasoning can overcome the natural repugnance which comes to man when he is in company with such a woman.

What is true of bad breath in woman is not true in so great a degree in men. Women are looked upon as the incarnation of sweetness, breeding, virtue and refinement. Foul breath will sicken a man so that he cannot feel for such a woman a companionship necessary to make him desire to be in her company.

There is absolutely no occasion for bad breath in either men or women. Charcoal, the strongest absorbent known, when taken into the stomach, wil prevent this repugnant tendency or affliction.

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are sold in tremendous quantities all over America and Canada. They cure and have cured all forms of bad breath. A single box will convince you of this fact. One should eat some of these lozenges after each meal and upon retiring. You might eat fifty of them without harm. They are not medicine, but pure willow charcoal mixed with sweet honey to make them palatable and compressed into a lozenge to preserve their peculiar and lasting strength.

The next time you wish to go into company and don't want your foul breath to humiliate you, eat several of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges and your breath will be pure and sweet.

Every druggist carries them, price 25 cents, or send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package by mail free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 200 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

THE CLUB MEMBERS WIND UP IN SLUGGING MATCH

"Cullud" Society Had a Real Row in Their Midst—City Court.

Lillie Reed and Toney Ridley, members of "cullud" society and both in good standing as members of "Sunny" Johnson's West End club, so called because it is located at the west end of Brooklyn avenue, which some people are unfeeling enough to still insist upon calling it Chicago street, shocked the exclusive set from which the membership is drawn by coming to blows after a session of the organization last night.

Surface indications pointed out that there was a modicum of jealousy to instigate the affair, but both were mum on this point and each went to jail with $1 and costs attached, but they never divulged their secret.

"That gal just hit me for nuthin' all the time. I can't make out what's the matter with her anyhow. Las' week she hit me three or fo' times and I ain't paid no attention to it, but las' night she hit me on the nose and mos' made it bleed and I don't believe in settin' 'round and let nobody hit you for nuthin'," was Ridley's explanation.

"I tried to hit him but I missed him," admitted Lillie. "We was all hugged up like that," and Lillie folded her arms to show the court just how they were clinched, "and I couldn't git at him."

Then a little procession composed of the fighters and Bailiff Strodel wended its way back to the cell room and when it returned it was minus two. Deputy Prosecutor Hilgemann brought out the fact that "Sunny" Johnson is selling beer at his club and said afterward that he would not file an affidavit as the matter is up to the police. He put the information in their hands.

Swain's Pitiful Story.

Howard Swain told a story that was pitiful, although he has been up so often that his tale was robbed of most of the interest that otherwise would have attached to it. He was caught stealing coal off a Wabash car and stated that his wife had given birth to a baby a few days ago and that he was taking the coal home to keep her and the little one from freezing.

He added that all of his money had been used for the payment of doctor bills and rent and he had nothing with which to purchase coal. Judge Skelton continued his case until Tuesday morning and allowed him to go on his own recognizance.

Jacob Householder, arrested with Swain, was not so fortunate. He stole coal for "a widder woman" named Mrs. Summers, with whom he was boarding, but he is big and husky and might have gone out and earned the money to buy it, so the judge handed him $1 and costs and ten days. He is a hod carrier and had never been arrested before.

Abdallah Is Fined.

Abdallah Wilcox, who has been pretending that he could heal the blind and make them see, was fined $25 and costs and went to jail for practicing medicine without a license. No testimony was taken except that given by Dr. J. M. Dinnen, who had followed the case up, but two blind men were there ready to testify that he had treated them.

Abdallah had nothing to say. He pretended that he is half negro and half Indian, but his looks give this the lie and indicate that he is all negro. He was glad enough to get off with a fine.

The Other Cases.

Anthony Gubrowski, brought back from Chicago by Detective Lenz at the instance of Anna Dousky, who charged him with deserting their children, promised to marry the woman and the case was continued. He will be required to give bond, however, to insure that he will not skip out. Detective Lenz located him and found him hiding under a bed. He came back without requisition papers.

Floyd Wilson, a young negro charged with stealing coal, was held to the juvenile court.

Fred Jones, charged with stealing a wagon from L. P. Stapleford, had his case continued until next Wednesday morning.

The blind tiger case against Zach Hoisen was dismissed.

Thomas Tancey was fined $10 and costs for loitering.

J. C. PETERS.

Right Because Made So

We have never before sold the equal of our Wilson Heater at the present prices. The lining of this stove is made of heavy sheet steel and extends within a few inches of the top of the stove. It is independent of the outer jacket and can be easily replaced when burned out. The draft opening being regulated from the top, there is no danger of sparks or fire, as with many other draft stoves. We have them in all sizes from $3.60 up.
